

Was Buried Alive

Walter Overlock, Native of Warren, Victim of Landslide in Gardiner

Walter Overlock, 44, of Railroad street, South Gardiner, was buried alive Monday afternoon, July 16, the first part of a landslide covering him only to the upper part of his legs and a second part of the slide covering him all over.

Mr. Overlock was born in Warren, Oct. 2, 1901, the son of Rufus and Ella Overlock. He is survived by his wife, Elsie Overlock; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Nye of Rockland; a son, Richard Parsons, S2c, U.S.N.R., who is stationed at Indian Head.

Mr. Overlock was buried alive Monday afternoon, July 16, the first part of a landslide covering him only to the upper part of his legs and a second part of the slide covering him all over.

Is Again Promoted

Corwin H. Olds, who left Bangor as the chaplain of the 1152d Field Artillery in February, 1941, has been promoted to the rank of full Colonel, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. Velma G. Olds, who is residing in Alexandria La.

Col. Olds is now head chaplain for the Central Pacific Base Command, with offices in Oahu and all chaplains in the Central Pacific Base area are under his command.

Col. Olds' promotion comes as a signal honor to his ability and devotion to duty as there are few full colonels in the Chaplains' Corps.

For a number of years Col. Olds was pastor of the Rockland Congregational Church.

He Wants Carl

Schwellenbach Recommends Moran For Under Secretary —Also Seeks Advice

Secretary of Labor has issued the following statement:

"I have written to Senator Murray, chairman of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor and to Congresswoman Norton, chairman of the House Committee on Labor and have asked them to introduce legislation to create two additional Assistant Secretaries of Labor. If the legislation is introduced and approved by Congress, I shall ask that Carl Moran shall be appointed as Under Secretary of Labor.

"I want to make it clear that I shall ask advice and counsel from the organization of labor in the appointment of the additional secretaries. However, I want to make it clear also that whoever is appointed to any place in the Department must take his oath of office as a public servant and to serve the entire public interest.

"It is unfair to any employee and unfair to any organization and injurious to the public interest for anyone in this Department to be recognized as the representative of any group. As I said before, we are public servants and we have the responsibility of promoting the welfare of all of labor. But certainly it is advisable to get for the public service in this field the men who have had long experience in the great organizations of labor and I have no apology for seeking such advice and counsel. I want it."

Asks Rate Increase

Monhegan Water Co. Finds Receipts Inadequate: Hearing In Thomaston

Permission to increase its rates is requested by the Monhegan Water Company in a petition filed with the Maine Public Utilities Commission, which set July 31 as a public hearing date in Thomaston.

The company said it desired to advance its rates to produce revenue of $1806, instead of the current $1271. It estimated expenses at $1614.

It said present rates "are inadequate for the operating expenses and maintenance and if continued will render the proper upkeep and necessary replacement of tangible property impossible."

USHER WANTED

MALE
APPLY WEDNESDAY
Mgr. Strand Theatre

TIBBETTS STORE TO CLOSE

Main Street Concern In Business Since 1859—Home of the Bean Barrel Club

A business concern which has been in existence on Main street since 1859 passes out of the picture one week from today, and the proprietor admits disconsolately that he is "sorry to go."

The late Charles M. Tibbetts began his business career at the corner of Oak street, where he remained as a fruit and confectionery dealer for 33 years. The erection of a new block necessitated finding other quarters and he moved across the street into the Berry Block where he was located for ten years. This was followed by a 14-year tenancy in the Fales store at the corner of Main and Park streets, followed by his removal a few doors south, where his long and honorable business career terminated with his death in 1916 at the age of 81 years.

The business passed into the possession of his elder son, Charles C. Tibbetts, who had been associated with his father since he was knee high to a grasshopper.

And there Charles C. Tibbetts has grown old in the harness, his only "vacation" being in '98 when he was serving as a lieutenant in Co. H, Tillson Light Infantry, at Chickamauga, during the Spanish War. After this brief unpleasantness had died away, John Bird became major of Co. H and Lieut. Tibbetts succeeded to the captaincy.

With his return to the Tibbetts fruit and confectionery store, and his succession to the proprietor's title in 1916, this store became the national gathering place for Spanish War veterans, and other well known citizens who long ago adopted the title of "Bean Barrel Club." Meeting regularly at the Tibbetts store they have indulged in arguments which would put the modern debating clubs to shame. Prominent politicians of both parties have made it a point to visit the Club, and there still hangs on the walls the famous picture of the organization which appeared in the Boston Globe many years ago.

If Proprietor Tibbetts is disconsolate at retiring from business, that word doesn't begin to express the feelings of the Bean Barrel Club's members who will soon find themselves without a roof over their head and who are going to miss their contacts with Cap'n Tibbetts more than words can tell.

What a story those bean barrels and creaking chairs could tell! The store passes into the possession of Al Plourd and will be transformed to quarters for Everett A. Munsey, who is engaged in the wholesale fruit and produce business. Alterations will be made the first of August.

Met Tragic Fate

Mrs. Jessie Keating Newbert Burned To Death In Her South Weymouth Home

Mrs. Alonzo B. Newbert, 57, widow of the founder of the Newbert Dye Manufacturing Co., Boston, was burned to death early Saturday when fire swept the lower floor of her 17-room home.

Fire chief Timothy J. McCarthy, who estimated damage at $5,000 said the blaze was caused by a smoldering cigarette.

Mrs. Newbert was the former Jessie Keating of Rockland, and graduated from Rockland High School, where she was an especially popular student. She spent many of her Summers at Rockland Breakwater, a guest at the Samoset Hotel. She is survived by a son, Lt. Kendall Newbert, now serving with the Navy in the Pacific, and a daughter, Nancy, employed at Wheaton College.

Ellis E. Hastings, S1c, U. S. Coast Guard, of Rockland, now has a Fleet Postoffice address, which may be obtained from his wife, Eleanor Goodwin Hastings of 45 Pine street, Rockland.

Mrs. Betty Munro Ames of Rockland has received word that her husband, Bradford V. Ames, ART2c, has arrived somewhere overseas. His address may be obtained from Mrs. Ames.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps

BLUEBERRY RAKERS WANTED

I need a few men to rake blueberries. Transportation will be furnished from Rockland and Thomaston. Please apply in person, if possible.

EMIL RIVERS
UPPER PARK STREET

UNION FARMERS' TRADING CLUB

Semi-annual meeting Union Farmers' Trading Club
WARREN—GLOVER HALL
WEDNESDAY NIGHT, JULY 25
8.00 P. M.

STITCHERS WANTED

EXPERIENCED OR LEARNERS

Work Under Ideal Conditions In a Daylight Factory

Earn While You Learn—Apply In Person

VAN BAALLEN, HEILBRUN & CO.
CAMDEN ST. TEL. 1385 ROCKLAND, ME.

Being Urged To Run

Friends Want "Fred" Payne To Enter Gubernatorial Lists in '48

Political talk has projected former Augusta Mayor Frederick G. Payne's name among likely Republican candidates for governor in 1948. Payne's supporters are urging him to run, according to Merle F. Dobbins of Rockland, former State Police trooper, close friend and supporter of Payne.

Dobbins declared that "while Mr. Payne undoubtedly would not think of running in 1946 against Gov. Hildreth, whom he supported in the last campaign, it is thought that public urging and growing movement for a strong party man would influence Mr. Payne to run again in 1948.

"Former Mayor Payne came within 2,000 votes of winning the nomination in 1940 against Gov. Sumner Sewall, an exceedingly strong candidate, with two others in the field. Shortly after the campaign he was appointed State Commissioner of Finance and served until May, 1942, when he entered the military service as a captain in the finance division of the Army Air Corps. With the rank of Lt. Col. he was released from active duty last Summer and entered private business in Waldoboro. Before seeking the governorship in 1940 he was mayor of Augusta five years with no opposition from either party and was instrumental in obtaining many new industries for Maine." Dobbins concluded—Portland Telegram.

In an interview with The Courier-Gazette, shortly after he located in Waldoboro, Mr. Payne declared flatly that he had no political aspirations. What insistent friends may be able to accomplish in three years remains to be seen.

Miss Mabel E. Snow of Brookline, Mass., is at Camp Alamoosook, East Orland, for two weeks.

On Towboat Ledge

Big Ammunition Ship Went Ashore There In Saturday Night's Fog

The Liberty ship, Ignace Padewski, 10,500 tons, laden with ammunition, bound from Europe to Seaport, is aground on Pond Island Ledge in Muske Ridge channel.

The first report reached The Courier-Gazette office at 12.30 Sunday afternoon, when Miss Ethel A. Payson, vacationing at Hendrickson's Point, said that there was a large vessel offshore with several small craft nearby. A half-hour later Mrs. Ellena Fredette of Ash Point telephoned and said that an ammunition ship was ashore on Towboat Ledge.

The Navy Department has taken over and Isaac L. Hammond, Captain of the Port for the Coast Guard, can offer no information as to the progress of the salvage.

The vessel apparently went ashore in the thick fog which shrouded the coast Saturday night and Sunday morning.

A Boston tugboat will attempt to float the big craft at high tide today.

TENNIS AT WASSOOKEAG

Wassookeag School-Camp of Dexter, will sponsor this Summer the Eastern Maine Tennis Tournament for the fifth successive year. The first round matches for Boys' singles and Junior Men's singles will begin next Sunday, and the Quarter-finals and Semi-finals will be played from Monday, July 30, through Wednesday, Aug. 1. The Senior Men's singles and doubles will begin Thursday, Aug. 2. The Quarter-finals and Semi-finals will be played Friday and Saturday, Aug. 3 and 4, and the finals in all events will be played Sunday, Aug. 5.

Miss Sara Masterman of Greenville has been guest, for a week, of Miss Elizabeth Hagar.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

Mil Hary, formerly of the Rockland Postoffice force, has been having a few days' vacation at the French seaside town of Etretat, and sends me a souvenir postcard showing the town, which he describes as "a lovely place, not too badly damaged." Mil added that he expected to go to Rhems soon. How I would like to hear him give the lion's roar, once more.

Our good friend, The Black Cat, columnist of The Courier-Gazette, asks: "Is the custom of wearing one's shirt-tail on the outside of his pantaloons, merely a war fad, a war casualty, or (horrors) just plain laziness?" Being an addict to the custom we would say right off hand that he hadn't guessed right, in all three queries. The neighbors rather objected to the custom when we adopted it some years ago, but they have become reconciled to it, or at least have ceased commenting on it, we hope. On a hot day, especially where there is a bit of a breeze, the shirt-tails flapping in the wind gave us a little relief in certain portions of our anatomy, which is helpful. We suggest that our Rockland friend try it out sometime, when nobody is looking. He might adopt the custom, himself. Up here in the Summer camp region we aren't quite so particular as to what one wears—or doesn't wear, as they are in metropolitan areas, like the City of Rockland—Bridgton News. Judging from some of the femininity (Continued on Page Five)

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

SUMMER HYMN

Here in the country's heart
Where the grass is green,
Life is the same sweet life
As it ever hath been.
Trust in a God still lives,
And the bell at morn
Floats with a thought of God
Over the rising corn
God comes down in the rain,
And the crop grows tall
This is the country faith
And the best of all.
—Norman Gale

WANTED AT ONCE

Blueberry Rakers

Good Pay, Free Transportation from Rockland, ten minutes ride from city. Call or Tel.

S. RUOHOMAA, Tel. 813-4

59-1t

Trinidad Roofing Co.
106 Union St., Tel 1494-W

MAINE'S LARGEST ROOFERS AND INSUL SIDEWALL APPLICATORS

Announce a complete guaranteed service to home-owners of Rockland and vicinity.

- Beautiful-color styled, fire-resisting locked roofs that can't blow up or curl.
- Insul White Cedarx and Insulated Brick Sidings that end future paint cost save up to 40 per cent in heating.
- Inlaid Trinity and Asphalt Tile floors for kitchen, office and store.

47-1t

EARN TOP WAGES

AND

HELP THE WAR EFFORT

AT THE SAME TIME

Women Sardine Packers Are Needed AT ONCE

- Good Wages in Essential Industry.
- Free Transportation Provided within 30 miles of Rockland.
- Excellent working conditions. Workers already in essential industries should not apply.

U. S. EMPLOYMENT SERVICE
447 MAIN STREET, ROCKLAND, ME.

NORTH LUBEC MFG. & CANNING CO.
TILLSON AVENUE, ROCKLAND, ME.
TEL. 31-W

58-65

MONTPELIER

A MEMORIAL TO GENERAL HENRY KNOX
IN THOMASTON

WILL BE OPEN TO VISITORS ON THE BIRTHDAY OF GENERAL KNOX

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25

From 1 O'clock To 6 P. M. With Hostesses In Attendance.

General Knox was the first Secretary of War in Washington's Cabinet and devoted himself with great zeal to departmental affairs which included both Army and Navy, and much which now devolves on other cabinet officers.

At recent celebrations of General Knox's birthday the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy paid tribute to General Knox. Each expressed surprise at finding, as he prepared to speak, how large a part of the present organization went back to the constructive work of the first Secretary of War.

As far back as 1783 Knox told Washington of his plan for a militia system which included Summer Training Camps. He was a bit ahead of his time. It was not until the threat of World War I that the training camp plan had a chance to demonstrate its efficiency.

Knox saw the need of a Navy for the young nation and near the end of his administration Congress authorized the building of six frigates. One of these was the "Constitution."

Montpelier is a replica of General Knox's home and has many of the original furnishings as well as beautiful antiques of the period.

Men in uniforms will be admitted free.

58-59

The Courier-Gazette

Twice-A-Week
The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple... For I am the Lord, I change not.—Mal. 3:1, 6.

Book Review

K. S. F.

"Darkly The River Flows," by John Macdonald, published by Coward, McCann, New York.

In this dramatic tale we find the $1,000 prize novel of the year, and it certainly proves the author to be a true teller of tales with finished vigor.

It is a matter of character conflict, told with dramatic power; and of three men of Canadian birth. There is a psychological essence drawn through this story, and could be told of any part of the world. Character drawing when material things are imminent in the head of a family, while the mother's heart touches deeply personal relationship.

The men of the family have violent trends in likes and dislikes; also independence in thinking out their own problems.

Lt. Commander Macdonald has much in his future if this tale is a criterion of his prowess as a full-blooded thinker. Human lives and conflict is the theme song of this tale, excellent in his telling.

Kathleen S. Fuller.

Sea And Shore Boys

Not many are familiar with the work and the life led by the sea and shore boys, so perhaps the following letter from Warden Merle F. Dobbins of Rockland, a former state police officer, will be of interest.

Sea And Shore Wardens

"The pursuit and capture of law violators along our coast packs more thrills than chasing speed law violators on the highways. Sea and Shore Fisheries wardens working on a case or on a routine checkup are up and situated at some lonely spot on the shore or in the woods long before daylight and regardless of weather. And they often remain in those spots until long after dark.

"The most common violators are the 'short lobster' fishermen. If the man being watched proves to be a violator, or if the warden isn't certain, the boat is called ashore and the catch inspected. If however, the boat is too far off shore for the range of the warden's voice he watches the boat start away then races for his car and piles in for a wild ride to a place where he thinks the boat will go ashore. If possible the warden keeps his eye on the boat along the way. A warden might go through all this day after day and not catch up with a violator and he might land him the first day.

"We have no trouble with the real fisherman who makes his living at lobstering. In fact they cooperate with us a hundred per cent. The violators usually are persons with a few traps who visit the traps of the real fishermen and take all the lobsters they can get regardless of size.

"It isn't easy catching them all but the drive will never be relaxed. And we are grateful for the fine cooperation given us by the real fishermen.

"Merle F. Dobbins,
Sea and Shore Warden,
Rockland."

LAKEWOOD THEATRE

"Over Twenty-One," the Ruth Gordon comedy which the Lakewood Players are presenting this week, is an unusual combination of laughs and sentiment and its presentation demonstrates why it was such a success on Broadway. Louise Campbell as the noted author, eager to help her husband pass his examinations for second lieutenant, the part acted by Robert Lynn, and Matthew Smith as the publisher have the leading roles. Among the others are Katherine Meskill, Helen Mayon, Philip Truax, Elaine Ellis, Owen Coll and Grant Mills.

"Kiss and Tell," the most successful comedy of the last ten years, will be given all next week starting Monday night. This laugh riot by F. Hugh Herbert and presented by George Abbott has just concluded a two years' run on Broadway. Seats may be reserved by telephoning Skowhegan 331.

WE WILL PAY
O. P. A. CEILING PRICES
FOR GOOD CLEAN
USED CARS

Miller's Garage
USED CARS

170-17

THE COURIER-GAZETTE

Twice-A-Week
Editor, FRANK A. WINSLOW
Associate Editor, MRS. WILLIAM O. FULLER

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1855 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

[EDITORIAL]

DELICACIES FROM THE SEA

If you are a lover of seafood, and that includes a large majority of us, your mouth will water when you read the new seafood cookbook entitled "The State of Maine's Best Seafood Recipes," published by the Maine Development Commission in co-operation with the Sea and Shore Fisheries Department, which is also one of Maine's finest publicity agencies. The new book, containing 115 recipes, many of them carrying alluring illustrations, is the finest thing of its kind ever issued through a Maine agency. In the opening color plate, the king of them all, the Maine lobster is shown as it came fresh from the broiler. Shown in the other color plates are creamy stews and lobster newberg, stuffed crabs, fried scallops, stuffed halibut steak, a salt codfish dinner, a colorful salad of jellied shrimp and egg, an inviting casserole of baked mussels and as the high spot of the illustration the center piece of the book displays a huge silver platter of seafood delicacies. Prizes were offered for seafood recipes, and we are glad to vote Knox County names among the winners—Mrs. Elta F. Beverage and Mrs. Maud M. Simpson of North Haven, Mrs. Leroy A. Chatto of Rockland, Mrs. F. D. Rowe of Thomaston, and Mrs. Robert C. Farris of Union.

TIME TO THINK ABOUT FUEL

It's perhaps a bit too warm to be worrying about the rigors of Winter; but it is certainly not too early to heed the warning sounded by Gov. Hildreth as to the fuel scarcity which is very certain to exist. His Excellency says he is informed that Maine's hard coal supply is at least 30 percent off from last year's, and that there is small likelihood that adequate stockpiles can be built up for the Winter of 1945-46. The Governor has recommended to Maine fuel men that they make use of tank cars and tankers available for transporting liquid fuel to build up Winter services, and that they lay in supplies of reclaimed coke as a partial answer to the coal problem. The certainty of a coal shortage is apparent to everybody who thus read Mr. Ickes' statement that it is planned to send six million tons of bituminous coal to Europe by Jan. 1st.

CAMDEN'S BEAUTY BOOSTED

The Summer issue of that attractive publication, "The Pine Cone," issued by the State of Maine Publicity Bureau, is featured by Richard A. Hebert's article on "Camden," which he hails as the "incomparable Jewel in Maine's glorious coastal crown." Editor Hebert waxes eloquently upon the town's scenic charms, which are admittedly "incomparable," and devotes proper attention to its industrial advantages. Year in and year out The Courier-Gazette has proclaimed Camden as the most beautiful town in the State of Maine, and The Pine Cone article is but further exploitation of that claim, albeit done with eloquent pen and supplemented by three fine illustrations.

DECLINE AT THE SHIPYARDS

The shipbuilding industry of New England is suffering not unexpected reverses now that the need created by war's demands have been practically fulfilled. The Boston News Bureau estimates that the number of men employed the first of the present month was 82,700 in contrast with a peak of 169,400. Wartime employment peaks of 29,000 persons at Portland area shipyards and 14,000 at Bath yards fell off to 6,300 and 9,400 respectively by July 1.

FOR IT, BUT DON'T RUSH IT

Our hat is off to Mrs. John Book of Naperville, Illinois, who sold 111 head of Hereford cattle on the Chicago market and declined the Federal subsidy of $624 which was due her. We learn, moreover, that she and her sons have refused in past years more than $25,000 from the AAA. They just don't believe in subsidies. It would be a wonderful world if all of us declined to accept what we really believed we weren't entitled to. And we'd like to see the Government move toward dropping other subsidies—including tariff subsidies, ship subsidies, mail subsidies—when the time is ripe.

The new Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton Anderson, has said that farm subsidies are to be abandoned and prices allowed to rise enough to make up the difference. But it is to be hoped that this plan does not go into effect abruptly or until the Federal Government simultaneously reduces the income tax rates. Wage earners cannot afford to pay higher prices for farm products and pay present Federal taxes, too. This much can be said for various wartime subsidies, that while some of them have been badly administered, they have had their effect in preventing price inflation. We're for your plan, Mr. Secretary, but we urge you not to rush things. —Christian Science Monitor.

BLUEBERRY GROWERS AND CUSTOMERS

During the blueberry raking season, I will not be at my shop during the day but will plan to be there evenings between six and eight o'clock. However, if any emergency arises, there is someone here at my home to get necessary items for you. I have a good supply of flat-top steel blueberry rakes on hand, as well as cleaner supplies, such as V belts, V pulleys, bearings, etc. I also have a few blueberry cleaners on hand as of the present date.

EMIL RIVERS

59-60

WHILE ON VINALHAVEN VISIT THE ISLAND GIFT SHOP

AT THE TOP OF THE HILL. TURN LEFT AT HONOR ROLL

52-1f

SUMMER SCHEDULE
MOTORSHIP VINALHAVEN II—UNTIL OCT. 1
Leave Vinalhaven 7:00 A. M. Arrive Rockland 8:30 A. M.
Leave Rockland 9:30 A. M. Arrive Vinalhaven 11:00 A. M.
Leave Vinalhaven 1:00 P. M. Arrive Rockland 2:30 P. M.
Leave Rockland 3:30 P. M. Arrive Vinalhaven 5:00 P. M.
Sundays Leave Rockland at 8 A. M. Arr. Vinalhaven 9:30 A. M.
Leave Vinalhaven 4 P. M. Arriving Rockland 5:30 P. M.
On all Saturdays an extra trip from Vinalhaven at 5:30 P. M.
Arriving Rockland at 7 P. M.
VINALHAVEN PORT DISTRICT

50-1f

For New Assignment

Sgt. Theodore Caddy With a Group Which Flew 238 Combat Missions

15th AAF in Italy—After long service in Italy with the 15th Air Force, Sgt. Theodore R. Caddy of 15 Laurel street, Rockland, will soon return to the United States with the veteran 456th Bomb Group.

Sgt. Caddy will report to the Reception Station at Fort Devens, Mass., for processing, after which he will be given a furlough before reassignment.

Since coming overseas, he has been assigned to the 456th Bombardment Group, a B-24 Liberator bomber group which has participated in numerous bombings of German-held targets throughout Southern Europe and the Balkans.

The group has flown 238 combat missions since entering the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations, having bombed such vital targets as Vienna, Austria; Wiener Neustadt, Austria; Munich, Germany; Ploesti, Roumania; coastal fortifications on Southern France before D-Day; as well as numerous other pinpoint bombings on enemy troops concentrations in Northern Italy.

In all, the group bombed over 126 different targets, dropping nearly 14,000 tons of bombs. Gunners destroyed 130 enemy airplanes, probably destroyed 53 and damaged 65 others.

The group has been authorized six battle participations stars, and was awarded the Distinguished Unit Citation for its "outstanding performance of duty in bombing aircraft factories at Wiener Neustadt, Austria, last May."

The Rotary Club

Guest Speaker Tells How Taxes May Be Equalized in Municipality

Oscar I. Emerson of Brunswick, formerly with the State Bureau of Taxation, proprietor of an architectural and appraisal service, municipal planning, zoning and revaluation surveys, was speaker at the Rotary meeting Friday.

The subject of his interesting talk which was illustrated by maps made from aerial photographs was "Equalizing Taxes in a Municipality." Introduced by Ralph P. Conant of the program committee, he sketched the methods of taxing from earliest times, tracing methods in Maine back to Massachusetts and even back to England. Originally only land owners were taxed, then land and some buildings, and later land and all buildings.

He mentioned that assessors and tax gatherers are not always well thought of, but he pointed out that Jesus, in selecting his followers, chose two tax gatherers to work with him.

He explained the "lot and block" system of evaluation, and how such a unit plan tends to make assessments evenly and equitably, quite a variation from the system of "guesstimates."

Sixty-five were present, including two guests, Charles Beverage of Braintree, Mass., formerly of Thomaston and Frank J. St. Clair of Millburn, N. J., and twelve visiting Rotarians, Arthur P. Combs, Jr., of Stoneham, Mass., Stanley F. Hall of New London, Conn., James S. Hayward of Camden, Charles A. Holden of Hanover, N. H., William Macomber of Augusta, Casper Martin of Randolph, Mass., James W. Mathews of Lemoyne, Pa., Warren W. Oliver of Newton, Mass., Asbury Pitman of Belfast, Frank E. Poland, of Boston, Jack Selig of The Bronx, New York and H. A. Thompson of Boston.

President Lucius E. Jones made a brief report of the District Assembly held recently in Portland. Stafford M. Congdon was at the piano for the song session, led by Dr. C. Harold Jameson.

The address of Walter A. Griffin, S2c, U.S.N.R., is: 5th Div'n, Midway, (CVB-41) Detail, N.T.S., Newport, R. I. Seaman Griffin, who was home seven days recently, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Griffin of Griffin avenue, Rockland.

Automobile Owners—Fireproof Garage with all new and up-to-the-minute equipment and expert workmen offers lubrication, washing, simonizing, storage. Forrest Brazier is in charge of the mechanical department. Open Sundays. Telephone 889. 541f

MAKE ICE CREAM
At home—Any flavor—Delicious—Smooth—No ice crystals—No cooking—No re-whipping—No scorched flavor—Easy—Inexpensive—20 recipes in each 124 pkg. Please send this card for full-size sample offer, or buy from your grocer.

LONBONDERRY
Brand Homemade Ice Cream
STABILIZER
LONBONDERRY—535 HOWARD, SAN FRANCISCO 3, CALIF.

WORKING FOR VICTORY

With the Atlantic Fleet—Alfred Freeman Dotten, 20, coxswain, USNR, 575 Saw Mill River road, Yonkers, N. Y., is serving aboard a destroyer escort of the Atlantic Fleet. He mans one of the anti-aircraft guns during combat.

Since entering the Navy in September, 1942, he has been on active duty in the Atlantic and Mediterranean. He wears the American Theatre ribbon and the European-African-Middle-Eastern Theatre ribbon with one combat star.

Dotten is married to the former Lorraine Yankoc, who lives at the River road address. He is a son of Lt. (jg) and Mrs. E. W. Dotten of 20 Gurdy street, Rockland, and has a brother, Robert Dotten, who is also a coxswain in the Navy.

Cpl. Charles W. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wall of Tenants Harbor, has been awarded the Presidential Citation in the European theatre of operation. The certificate of merit was in recognition of conspicuously meritorious and outstanding performance of military duty in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. He also has the Congressional Medal of Honor and five battle stars to his credit. He is serving with the Army Signal Corps.

Earl Henry Sukeforth of 47 James street, Rockland, graduated from the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Norman, Okla., with the rating of Seaman 2c. He will now be transferred to a naval unit afloat or to another shore station for further instruction and work.

Seaman Sukeforth is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sukeforth of 12 Market street, Belfast and has a wife, (Mildred Carver Sukeforth) living at 47 James street. He is a graduate of Rockland High School and enlisted Oct. 5, 1944 at Portland. He was formerly a fisherman in the employ of Charles Carver.

Pvt. Arthur Crockett of 44 Chestnut street, Rockland, has received a medical discharge, due to physical disabilities. He was in the Army two and one-half months, and plans to return to his former vocation as safety patrolman in the Bath shipyard. His wife is Marie Crockett.

After 17 months overseas, Cpl. Everett (Ted) Elwell is home on 30-days' furlough which he is spending with his family in Rockland and Spruce Head. He says home sure looks good to him.

Pfc. Mildred G. Ferrin spent a 72-hour emergency pass with her mother and sister before her sister, Mrs. John B. Wollett left to join her husband, who is stationed at Alameda, Calif., with the Coast Guard. Mrs. Wollett left Saturday for California and Pfc. Ferrin returned to Bradley Field, Conn., Sunday.

A report of the memorial service held Sunday afternoon, for Pfc. Philip Carter French son of Dr. and Mrs. Crosby F. French of Rockland, will appear in Friday's issue of The Courier-Gazette. Pfc. French was killed in Germany, Dec. 13, 1944.

Pfc. Osmond F. Palmer, who recently returned from overseas, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Osmond A. Palmer, Rockland. He enlisted in July, 1943 and trained at Fort Benning, Ga., Fort Jackson, S. C., and Camp Kilmer, N. J. He went overseas in October 1944 and saw service with the Golden Acorn Division of the 345th Infantry of the 3d Army in the Battle of the Bulge. He nearly reached the Rhine and was hospitalized for three months because of illness. He expects to be at home until Aug. 15, when he will report at Fort Devens, Mass.

The address of Clyde L. Pierpont, A. S. son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival C. Pierpont of 7 Beechwood street, Thomaston, is: Co. 260, Bks. D-16-U, Sampson, N. Y. Mr. Pierpont was a member of the Class of 1945, Thomaston High School and took part in school athletics.

Edward Taylor Greenleaf, Jr., 17, of Vinalhaven, who graduated from Vinalhaven High School this year, and was a member of the baseball team, has been shipped to the U. S. Maritime Training Station, Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn.

The U. S. Maritime Service is urgently in need of men to train for duty aboard the ships of the U. S. Merchant Marine. During basic training they will learn life boat work, fire fighting, sea rules and traditions, swimming, ship construction and equipment, gunnery, and physical training. Following basic training, men 17 to 35, if qualified, will be eligible for advanced training in deck engine, radio or purser-hospital corps departments. Men up to 50 are eligible for stewards department training where minor physical defects are not disqualifying. Further information may be obtained from the U. S. Maritime Service Enrolling Office, U. S. Customs House, 312 Fore street, Portland 3, Maine.

Aurora Lodge, F. A. M., will have work in the Master Master degree tomorrow night.

Gilbert's Letter

Former Rockland Alderman, Writing From S. W. Pacific Takes Mr. Smalley To Task

Southwest Pacific, July 10.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I read with much interest the article "To Charter Critic" in your issue of May 8. It was shocking to see how lightly we in the armed services overseas are being dismissed by certain home town citizens from our right to vote on the proposed change in city government.

True, the voting privilege is legally extended to us across the seas, but are you aware of the many complications between the mailing of an application for an absentee ballot and the return of that ballot to Rockland? Mail delivery out here is often delayed, and by no means certain.

Paragraph five of the article in question contains some statements that are serious half-truths which might be misleading. Others raise questions of simple justice and ethics which should not be dismissed so casually as their author intends. A few of these statements follow.

"Some lads abroad have not attained their majority." It is true a great many lads here have been deemed old enough to die for their country, though not old enough to vote in it. But why, Sir, should that circumstance bar the body of men between the ages of 21 and approximately 40 from exercising their constitutional right? Why should voting be a duty for the adult at home, but a mere luxury for the man away from home defending his country?

"Others will probably locate elsewhere following termination of hostilities." It is equally true that other Rockland citizens may locate elsewhere sometime after the next election. But is it proposed that they be denied the ballot for that reason? "Sauce for the goose."

Edward Taylor Greenleaf, Jr., 17, of Vinalhaven, who graduated from Vinalhaven High School this year, and was a member of the baseball team, has been shipped to the U. S. Maritime Training Station, Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn.

The U. S. Maritime Service is urgently in need of men to train for duty aboard the ships of the U. S. Merchant Marine. During basic training they will learn life boat work, fire fighting, sea rules and traditions, swimming, ship construction and equipment, gunnery, and physical training. Following basic training, men 17 to 35, if qualified, will be eligible for advanced training in deck engine, radio or purser-hospital corps departments. Men up to 50 are eligible for stewards department training where minor physical defects are not disqualifying. Further information may be obtained from the U. S. Maritime Service Enrolling Office, U. S. Customs House, 312 Fore street, Portland 3, Maine.

Aurora Lodge, F. A. M., will have work in the Master Master degree tomorrow night.

Aurora Lodge, F. A. M., will have work in the Master Master degree tomorrow night.

"Many who do return will in all probability, like their elders refrain from interesting themselves in local politics." Another serious half-truth. Is it justice to use the laxity and defection of the elders as an excuse for blaming the younger generation for supposed misdeeds not yet committed? A fad, of which the writer of your article may have been unaware, or which he may have chosen conveniently to ignore, is that many of us have taken on a considerable heightened interest in government. We are examining as never before what makes politics "tick", and you may certainly expect to see the effect of this thought when we return—if we do.

"Some, however, admittedly may feel as your correspondent indicates, but in my judgment they will represent a small minority." Thus your writer neatly and summarily dismisses the 1200 or more Rockland servicemen and women. Not only are they far away from home and not from choice—supposedly defending the right of free expression (voting, if you please), but they "will represent a small minority." Since when, may I ask, has it become wrong to be in a minority—in Rockland? Under an out and out fascist government, of course, being in a minority is wrong. But surely not yet in America—in Rockland!

To me it is regrettable that the energy used in promoting the suggested changes in our city government was not spent in furthering the war effort. If it had been, perhaps we could come home sooner and again take our rightful places in the whole scheme of government.

Frankly, I have faith that our city government, which has been in operation a good while, will be able to weather another year or so—"til we who are subject to it can have our rightful say about whether and what changes should be made."

Finally, may I say that it was nice of Mr. Smalley to represent the service people's interest. But why did he not defend them? We are defending his.

O. A. Gilbert.

IMPORTANT AUCTION

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY,
JULY 25, 26

LARGE VARIETY OF ANTIQUE GLASS, CHINA, AND BRIC-A-BRAC, FURNITURE, ORIENTAL RUGS, ETC.

Hundreds of Valuable Articles to be Sold to the Highest Bidder, Regardless of Cost.

SALE STARTS AT 10 A. M. SHARP, RAIN OR SHINE

SIM'S ANTIQUE SHOP

ATLANTIC HIGHWAY, ROUTE ONE, ROCKLAND, ME.

HAPPY DIXON, AUCTIONEER, SACO, ME.

58-59

WANTED AT ONCE BEAN PICKERS

An opportunity for anyone, especially children, to help in the War Effort

The Armed Forces are Taking Better Than Half the Canned String Bean Output For This Year
IT'S ESSENTIAL THAT ALL FOODS BE SAVED THIS WAR YEAR

Here is a great opportunity for children to earn big money picking beans!

Price paid 2c per pound

Free transportation provided to the fields for all workers

Apply to

U. S. Employment Service Office, 447 Main St., Rockland
Farm Labor Office, Rockland Post Office Bldg. Black & Gay, Cannors, Thomaston

County Agent Ralph C. Wentworth, Farm Bureau Office, Phone 1111.

BLACK & GAY, CANNERS

58-61

TALK OF

July 16-27—Vacation Littlefield Memorial July 24—Rockland Music at the Center July 25—Observance Knox's birthday Knox Memorial Association July 25—Thomaston Choral Society July 27—Class of School reunion July 30 Aug. 4—Rockland July 31—Public hearing on water rates Aug. 2—Women's Picnic at home street, Suffield Aug. 3—Knox Day Association, Rockland Temple, Rockland Aug. 8—Civic Library Building August 10—Wentworth at Baptist Church Aug. 21-25—No Union Aug. 22-23—Wentworth by the Water Sept. 3—Labor Day Sept. 10—Referendum Manager-Charter Oct. 25—Platford Chorus (Opening Community Concert)

COMING
Annual reunion of Job, Joseph, and Graham at Penikese Hall, Glen Cove, N. Y.
Tbrook Cross, cottage at Cretin bought the J. H. there.
Mr. and Mrs. and children, Dobbins are spending the "Sunny" days.
Mr. and Mrs. children, who are two weeks at the South Shore Braintree, Mass.
Staff Sgt. R. Houlton is the brother of his sister, The city.

More Talk of
How about the driveway? Incessant satisfactory. Successpools. Call Rockland 21-13 56-13. John M.

LAST
Private
JULY
All Persons seek Problem
Rev. Ru
THORND
HOURS 9 A.
FEE

Come to the H
1485 for

BE TEMPLE
ROCK
WEDN
AT 2
THUR
AT 8.15

STOVE
FOR SL
I want an oil use on my stove a cruise in Auto stove or rent

WRITE OR WALTER
-25 Forbe
Tuckahoe

MARINE UNIVERSAL
F. D. WIL FRIEND

BU
Funer
TELS.
110-112 LI
ROCK
Ambulan

return will in all their elders refrain themselves in local serious half- to use the laxity of the elders as being the younger supposed misdeeds? A fad, of which or article may have to which he may ventily to ig- any of us have ta- derable heightened nment. We are never before what ick", and you may to see the effect when we return—if er, admittedly may correspondent indi- judgment they will minority." Thus tly and summarily or more Rockland women. Not only age from home—and ce—supposedly deat of free expression please), but they a small minority." I ask, has it become minority—in Rock- out and out fascist- course, being in a ng. But surely not —in Rockland! regrettable that the promoting the sug- in our city govern- spent in furthering If it had been, per- one home sooner and fightful places in the of government. ge faith that our city hich has been in op- while, will be able to er year or so—"til we t it can have our out whether and what be me.

I say that it was nice to represent the serv- terest. But why did them? We are de- O. A. Gilbert.

TALK OF THE TOWN

July 16-27—Vacation Bible School at Littlefield Memorial Church.
July 24—Rockland Garden Club picnic at the Senter Cottage, Lucia Beach.
July 25—Observance of Gen. Henry Knox's birthday and annual meeting of Knox Memorial Association in Thomaston.
July 25—Thomaston: Concert by Baptist Choral Society.
July 27—Class of 1904, Rockland High School reunion, The Copper Kettle.
July 30-Aug. 4—Clean Up Week in Rockland.
July 31—Public Utilities Commission has hearing in Thomaston on Monhegan water rates.
Aug. 2—Woman's Educational Club picnic at home of Mrs. Emma Bradstreet, Suffolk Street.
Aug. 3—Knox County O.E.S. Picnic Day Association, annual meeting, Masonic Temple, Rockland.
Aug. 8—O.E.S. Head Church fair at Library Building.
August 16—Warren: 15th annual concert at Baptist Church.
Aug. 21-25—North Knox Fair at Union.
Aug. 22-23—Warren: "Feathers in a Gale," by the Warren Players.
Sept. 1—Labor Day.
Sept. 10—Referendum on Rockland's Manager-Charter bill.
Oct. 25—Platoon Don Cossack Russian Chorus. (Opening concert of the Knox Community Concert Association).

COMING REUNIONS
Annual reunion of the descendants of Job, Joseph, Josiah and Nancy Ingraham at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove, Aug. 2.
Throck Cross, who is occupying his cottage at Crescent Beach, has bought the J. Rodney Flye cottage there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sylvester and children, Donna, Sonny and Jeri are spending the week at their cottage "Sunny Haven," South Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Snow and children, who have been spending two weeks at the Snow cottage on the South Shore, have returned to Braintree, Mass.

Staff Sgt. Ronald D. Gildred of Houlton is the guest for a few days of his sister, Theresa Gildred of this city.

More Talk of the Town on Page 5

How about that crushed granite driveway? Inexpensive and most satisfactory. Stone for wells and cesspools. Call for estimate. Phone Rockland 21-13 or Tenants' Harbor, 56-13. John Meehan & Son—adv.

LAST DAYS FOR Private Readings JULY 24, 25
All Persons seeking Help for their Problems Consult
Rev. Ruth Mathias
AT
THORNDIKE HOTEL
HOURS 9 A. M. TO 3 P. M.
FEE $1.00
Come to the Hotel or Telephone 1485 for appointment 59-11

BEANO TEMPLE HALL ROCKLAND WEDNESDAYS AT 2 O'CLOCK THURSDAYS AT 8.15 O'CLOCK 41-T-11

STOVE WANTED FOR SLOOP BOAT
I want an oil or coal stove for use on my sloop Bo Peep during a cruise in Acadia. Will buy the stove or rent if desired.
WRITE OR TELEGRAPH WALTER S. HANNAN 25 Forbes, Boulevard Tuckahoe 7, New York 56-60

MARINE MOTORS
UNIVERSAL, GRAY, KERMATH
F. D. WINCHENBACH
FRIENDSHIP, ME. 40-64

BURPEE Funeral Home
TELS. 390-1174-M
110-112 LIMEROCK ST.
ROCKLAND, ME.
Ambulance Service

MAGAZINE SCHEDULE DUE WEDNESDAY
BETTER HOMES & GARDENS
BAND LEADERS
CORONET
GOOD HOUSEKEEPING
KING COMICS
LATEST HIT SONGS
LIFE STORY
LOVE & ROMANCES
MORE FUN COMICS
MASTER DETECTIVE
MOVIE STORY
OUTDOOR LIFE
PATHFINDER
PICTURE WISE READERS' DIGEST
SATURDAY EVENING POST
SCREEN GUIDE
SPORTS AFIELD
SWANK
TARGET COMICS
TRUE ROMANCES
TRUE COMICS
WESTERN ACES
& OTHERS
DUE FRIDAY
CHILD LIFE
COLLIERS
LADIES' HOME JOURNAL
LIBERTY
MECHANICS ILLUSTRATED
MOTION PICTURE
MOTOR BOATING
SCREEN STARS
SHADOW COMICS
& OTHERS
STATE NEWS CO.
468 MAIN STREET
Next to A. & P. Super Market
Opposite The Courier-Gazette
ROCKLAND, MAINE.

RUSSELL FUNERAL HOME
LADY ASSISTANT
Ambulance Service
TEL. 701-702
9 CLAREMONT ST.
ROCKLAND, ME.

Services This Week
Church of God Campmeeting
at Appleton, Rev. Paul Walker Guest Speaker

Dr. C. Harold Jameson, president of the Knox Community Concert Association, announced today the dates of the concerts for the coming season: Oct. 25, The Platoon Don Cossack Russian Chorus; Jan. 18, Appleton and Field, duo-pianists, and May 8, Charles Kullman, tenor, and Mona Paulley, mezzo-soprano.

Miss Charlotte Cook is spending her vacation at her home in Newtonville, Mass.

Mrs. Louise Nevelson of New York is the guest of relatives at the Thorndike Hotel.

BORN
Yattaw—At South Hope, July 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Yattaw, a son—Melvin—At Knox Hospital, July 12, to Mr. and Mrs. Zenas W. Melvin of Thomaston, a son—James L. Lofman—At Knox Hospital, July 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Eino F. Lofman, a son—Russell Eino.
Bucklin—At Knox Hospital, July 15, to Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Bucklin, a daughter—Beatrice Annette.
Metcalfe—At Rockland, July 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Metcalfe, a son—Louis Eugene.
McLain—At Vinal Maternity Home, July 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus K. McLain (Bernice Munro) of Thomaston, a son—Kendall Freeman.
Crockett—At Vinal Maternity Home, July 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Y. Crockett, a son—Arthur York Jr.
July 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde K. Maloney of Thomaston, a son—Clyde Kavanagh, Jr.

MARRIED
Conary-Gupill—At Rockland, July 21, Loford B. Conary and Vera Ruth Gupill, both of Rockland, by Rev. J. Charles MacDonald.
Warren—At Rockland, July 21, Robert Newell Warren of Portland and Shirley Arlene Griffin of Union—by Rev. J. Charles MacDonald.

DIED
Thorndike—At Union, July 20, Grace R. wife of Fred Thorndike of North Vassalboro, age 74 yrs. 8 mos. 11 days. Burial at the Milling cemetery, Appleton.
Newell—At South Weymouth, Mass. July 21, Jessie (Keating) widow of Alonzo B. Newell, a native of Rockland, age 57 years.
Dewick—At South Weymouth, Mass. July 16, Walter Overlook, native of Warren, age 43 years, 9 months, 14 days. Burial at the Milling cemetery, Appleton.
Ames—At Rockport, July 22, Cecil Adelbert Ames age 38 years. Funeral Wednesday at 2 p.m. from P. J. Good funeral home, Camden. Burial in Sea-view cemetery, Rockport.
Hunt—At Rockport, July 22, Burton Sands Hunt, age 74 years. Funeral today at 2:30 from P. J. Good funeral home, Camden. Interment in Mount View cemetery, Camden.
Shibles—At Danvers, Me. July 22, Edward O. Shibles of Thomaston, age 77 years. Funeral today at 2 o'clock from Davis funeral home. Burial in New York City.
Mathews—At Thomaston, July 23, Clara S. Mathews, age 90 years, 7 months, 1 day. Funeral Wednesday at 2 o'clock from Davis funeral home. Burial in Village cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Julia B. Harris who passed away July 26, 1923.
Children, Edith M. Harris, H. Alvah Harris, Mrs. Norman Simmons, Sister Miss Rosa Teale.

CARD OF THANKS
We thank each and every one of our relatives and friends who attended our reception at Warren and gladdened us not only by their presence but also by their generous donations of money, flowers, and refreshments. We especially thank those who contributed to the program and the music for the dance, those who worked in the kitchen and served; those who made noise; and the sisters and brothers for the watch and the beautiful cake.
Albert and Lois Harjuia.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my appreciation to all who made my stay at Knox Hospital more pleasant. My thanks to those who sent flowers, gifts, letters, cards, and the visitors; they gave me much enjoyment.
Mrs. "Nell" Thomas, Vniathaven.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to extend sincere thanks to relatives and friends, Dorcas Circle of Kings Daughters, Baptist, Kings Daughters, and Ivy Chapter, O.E.S., for the cards, gifts and flowers sent me while a patient at Knox Hospital; also Dr. Fogg, Dr. Campbell, and staff of nurses for their many kindnesses.
Helen S. Maxcy, Warren.

WANTED BELL BOY AND CHAMBER MAID
APPLY
Thorndike Hotel
ROCKLAND

JUST RECEIVED ENAMEL WARE
LARGE SHIPMENT
• TEA KETTLES
• PERCOLATORS
• COVERED KETTLES
• SAUCE PANS
• PUDDING PANS
• DISH PANS
• WASH BASINS
AT LOW PRICES
ALSO METAL CURTAIN RODS
10c Each
E. B. CROCKETT
5c & 10c to $1 Store
410 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND
N. B. NEXT WEEK "CLEAN UP WEEK"

SHINE UP TIME
Brighten Your Home With Our Charming New RUFFLED AND TAILORED CURTAINS
SUPPLY IS GOOD—STYLES MOST ATTRACTIVE
SHADE CURTAIN DAYS
Are here again. We have plenty of Shade Curtains—Made to measure. In Greens, Ivory, Buff and Duplex—(Green and White).
WOTTON'S
405 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND, TEL. 275

Translucid
For "glowing through" beauty...
Just three drops smoothed on face and throat, will give you that "glowing through" look so necessary to sheer beauty! Tinted to blend with your skin tone.
Also, Translucid Sheer-Sifted Face Powder, Rouge and Lipstick.
Miss Eva Mae Francis, Special Representative, will be at your service at our store July 26-28.
CARROLL
CUT RATE
404 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND

Kenwoods $13.50 & $14.95
North Stars $15.95 & $21.50
Chathams $ 7.50 & $ 9.98
$1.00 DOWN—$1.00 A WEEK

Leg Badly Wounded
But Ernest Nystrom Limping Around Home Is Ready For Next Assignment
Blown from a tank during the warfare in Germany, Ernest Nystrom of Rockland suffered wounds which seemed to foretell the loss of one of his legs. His ejection from the vehicle of war was so forcible that he knocked over two comrades who were in his pathway, and it was 40 hours before he was located by other members of his unit.
He is now at his home with a piece of shrapnel in one of his heels, and a leg so badly injured that he is destined to carry through life the effects of that exciting incident.
But he is still in the game, awaiting the expiration of his leave before reporting for another assignment. To his intimate friends he is able to tell of other exciting war happenings, but, call it modesty or what you will, he declines to discuss them, and particularly does he wish to avoid publicity.
Son of the late Charles Nystrom he has two brothers in the armed forces, and a younger third one rarin' to go.
Charles Nystrom, Jr., is attached to a medical unit, and is expected home soon for a 30-day leave. John Nystrom is a gunner, located in the Southwest Pacific. William Nystrom is only 17 but is going to join up just as soon as he reaches the limit. He has the consent of his patriotic mother.
At the annual meeting of the Knox County Red Cross an executive committee was elected for the coming year. It comprises: Capt. K. A. Rice, Rockland, chairman, Ardyce Orr, Rockland, treasurer; Edward Dorman, Thomaston, disaster Mrs. Myrtle Sherman, Camden, home service; Rev. William E. Berger, Camden home service; Allen P. Payson, Camden, first aid; H. P. Blodgett, Rockland, finance; H. C. Newbiggin, Rockland, finance; Fred- eric Bird, Rockland, home service; Allan J. Murray, Rockland, finance; Mrs. Charles Stenger, Friendship, home service Mrs. R. O. Elliot Thomaston, home service; "It is hoped," says Chairman Rice "that the year 1945-46 will continue with successful and useful work. Let us remember that March, 1946, when we raise our money, is our critical time."

Now In Effect

New Laws Passed By Legislature, Including the Teacher Salary Boost

The bulk of the 628 bills enacted by the last legislature became law Saturday—90 days after the Solons have shut up shop.
As emergency measures, 44 became effective immediately after Gov. Hildreth had signed them. Major laws among the 534 going on the books tomorrow will:
Boost teachers' minimum pay from $720 to $1,000 a year.
Make occupational diseases as well as accidents compensable under the Workmen's Compensation law.
Forbid any dumping any waste materials that would cause new pollution of rivers and streams.
Grant World War II veterans and wives of disabled veterans five to 10 points preference in examinations for State jobs.
Raise from 14 to 15 the minimum age at which children may be employed in manufacturing and mechanical plants, laundries and bakeries.
Set up a small claims court for settling debts up to $35.
Double the State's postwar Public Works Reserve Fund, now $1,000,000.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blackington of Malden, Mass. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blackington, Jr. of Virginia and Boston are spending a vacation at the Fred M. Blackington cottage, West Rockport.

Won Double Honors
Washington Airman Does Valiant Work With Ninth Bomber Force
Army advances. His group holds the European Theatre of Operations fighter record for aerial kills having taken a toll of 701 plus 256 on the ground in 17 months of combat operations.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Austin, the 23-year-old flyer has been overseas for four months. Prior to entering the service in September, 1942 he was employed by the R. P. Hazzard Company, Augusta, as a shoe cutter. Lieut. Austin received his commission and wings in June, 1944. He is a graduate of Washington grade and high school.

Automobile Owners—Fireproof Garage with all new and up-to-the-minute equipment and expert workmen offers lubrication, washing, simonizing, storage. Forrest Brazier is in charge of the mechanical department. Open Sundays. Telephone 880. 54-1

ORDER YOUR ELECTRIC APPLIANCES NOW!!!
Make your reservations now for the Hotpoint or Universal major appliances. Also all small appliances so that you won't be disappointed when this merchandise arrives, as the allocations will be small. Call or Write,
THE ELECTRIC SHOP
E. K. JONES, TEL. 639-J 59-60

PERSONS
Found destroying Boats or Cottages at the lake will be punished.
Chickawaukie Lake Protective Assn.
59-16

GOOSE FISH, OR WHAT?
Naturalists Differ As to the Monster Edward Rowe Snow Caught
Boston Harbor Historian Edward Rowe Snow challenged Dr. Howard R. Hill's contention that a monster fish Snow hooked at sea was a commonplace catch for an angler in New England waters.
Dr. Hill, a Los Angeles naturalist, disputed Snow's claim that the 81-pound monster was a rare fish or a hang-over from the pre-historic era. Hill said the creature was found in the North Atlantic and answered to the name of Piscatorius lotius—or less formally, goose fish.
"Well," said Snow, "Maybe it is and maybe it isn't. However, I insist that it's a rare fish to find in Boston Harbor. And I'm glad to be living in New England, where the monster still is unusual."
Snow said he still wasn't completely convinced as to what the fish really was. He added that beside Dr. Hill, two other naturalists have taken a stab at the creature's identity.
"One calls it a squatinia. Squatinina and another an acanthostichon quadricornis," he said. "Me—I call it plain hideous!"
Visit Lucien K. Green & Son's second floor, 18 School street, Odd Fellows Block, City, for Furs, Fur Coats and Cloth Coats at moderate prices. 10-11

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

Leg Badly Wounded

But Ernest Nystrom Limping Around Home Is Ready For Next Assignment

Blown from a tank during the warfare in Germany, Ernest Nystrom of Rockland suffered wounds which seemed to foretell the loss of one of his legs. His ejection from the vehicle of war was so forcible that he knocked over two comrades who were in his pathway, and it was 40 hours before he was located by other members of his unit.
He is now at his home with a piece of shrapnel in one of his heels, and a leg so badly injured that he is destined to carry through life the effects of that exciting incident.
But he is still in the game, awaiting the expiration of his leave before reporting for another assignment. To his intimate friends he is able to tell of other exciting war happenings, but, call it modesty or what you will, he declines to discuss them, and particularly does he wish to avoid publicity.
Son of the late Charles Nystrom he has two brothers in the armed forces, and a younger third one rarin' to go.
Charles Nystrom, Jr., is attached to a medical unit, and is expected home soon for a 30-day leave. John Nystrom is a gunner, located in the Southwest Pacific. William Nystrom is only 17 but is going to join up just as soon as he reaches the limit. He has the consent of his patriotic mother.
At the annual meeting of the Knox County Red Cross an executive committee was elected for the coming year. It comprises: Capt. K. A. Rice, Rockland, chairman, Ardyce Orr, Rockland, treasurer; Edward Dorman, Thomaston, disaster Mrs. Myrtle Sherman, Camden, home service; Rev. William E. Berger, Camden home service; Allen P. Payson, Camden, first aid; H. P. Blodgett, Rockland, finance; H. C. Newbiggin, Rockland, finance; Fred- eric Bird, Rockland, home service; Allan J. Murray, Rockland, finance; Mrs. Charles Stenger, Friendship, home service Mrs. R. O. Elliot Thomaston, home service; "It is hoped," says Chairman Rice "that the year 1945-46 will continue with successful and useful work. Let us remember that March, 1946, when we raise our money, is our critical time."

Now In Effect
New Laws Passed By Legislature, Including the Teacher Salary Boost
The bulk of the 628 bills enacted by the last legislature became law Saturday—90 days after the Solons have shut up shop.
As emergency measures, 44 became effective immediately after Gov. Hildreth had signed them. Major laws among the 534 going on the books tomorrow will:
Boost teachers' minimum pay from $720 to $1,000 a year.
Make occupational diseases as well as accidents compensable under the Workmen's Compensation law.
Forbid any dumping any waste materials that would cause new pollution of rivers and streams.
Grant World War II veterans and wives of disabled veterans five to 10 points preference in examinations for State jobs.
Raise from 14 to 15 the minimum age at which children may be employed in manufacturing and mechanical plants, laundries and bakeries.
Set up a small claims court for settling debts up to $35.
Double the State's postwar Public Works Reserve Fund, now $1,000,000.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blackington of Malden, Mass. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blackington, Jr. of Virginia and Boston are spending a vacation at the Fred M. Blackington cottage, West Rockport.

Automobile Owners—Fireproof Garage with all new and up-to-the-minute equipment and expert workmen offers lubrication, washing, simonizing, storage. Forrest Brazier is in charge of the mechanical department. Open Sundays. Telephone 880. 54-1

ORDER YOUR ELECTRIC APPLIANCES NOW!!!
Make your reservations now for the Hotpoint or Universal major appliances. Also all small appliances so that you won't be disappointed when this merchandise arrives, as the allocations will be small. Call or Write,
THE ELECTRIC SHOP
E. K. JONES, TEL. 639-J 59-60

PERSONS
Found destroying Boats or Cottages at the lake will be punished.
Chickawaukie Lake Protective Assn.
59-16

GOOSE FISH, OR WHAT?
Naturalists Differ As to the Monster Edward Rowe Snow Caught
Boston Harbor Historian Edward Rowe Snow challenged Dr. Howard R. Hill's contention that a monster fish Snow hooked at sea was a commonplace catch for an angler in New England waters.
Dr. Hill, a Los Angeles naturalist, disputed Snow's claim that the 81-pound monster was a rare fish or a hang-over from the pre-historic era. Hill said the creature was found in the North Atlantic and answered to the name of Piscatorius lotius—or less formally, goose fish.
"Well," said Snow, "Maybe it is and maybe it isn't. However, I insist that it's a rare fish to find in Boston Harbor. And I'm glad to be living in New England, where the monster still is unusual."
Snow said he still wasn't completely convinced as to what the fish really was. He added that beside Dr. Hill, two other naturalists have taken a stab at the creature's identity.
"One calls it a squatinia. Squatinina and another an acanthostichon quadricornis," he said. "Me—I call it plain hideous!"
Visit Lucien K. Green & Son's second floor, 18 School street, Odd Fellows Block, City, for Furs, Fur Coats and Cloth Coats at moderate prices. 10-11

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command, "for meritorious achievement in combat flights."

A member of the Ninth Air Force's famed 354th Pioneer Mustang fighter group, Lieutenant Austin has 10 sorties against the enemy to his credit. He has flown on fighter sweeps, dive-bombed and strafed German airfields, railroad yards and other military objectives as well as harassed supply and communication lines, while spearheading Third

2d Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin
of Washington
A Ninth Air Force Fighter Bomber Base, Erlangen, Germany: Double honors, the Air Medal and the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster were awarded to Second Lieut. Kenneth C. Austin, Washington, veteran P-51 Mustang fighter-bomber pilot. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Homer L. Sanders commanding general of the Nineteenth

VINALHAVEN

~~~~~
MRS. OSCAR LANE
Correspondent

Mrs. Fred Barker, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Oliver of Rockland, has returned from a trip to Portland.

Mrs. Edna Swears of Dover-Foxcroft and Mrs. Nina Grindle of West Ellsworth are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Gregory.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Headley came yesterday from East Orange, N. J.

Mrs. John Peppard and daughter Susan of Belmont, Mass., have arrived at their home on Mountain street.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Carver have returned from Rockland.

Richard Parley and sister Gertrude Parley of Portland, were recent guests of Miss Lillian Ross.

Mrs. Clyde Rich of Edgartown, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Polk.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Simmers went Monday to Portland after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Drew.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bernhardt of Saugus, Mass., are occupying their cottage at Shore Acres for a week's stay.

Mrs. Beulah Drew entertained friends Friday night at her home in honor of her guest, Mrs. Della Simmers of Portland. First prize was awarded Mrs. Hilma Webster, second Mrs. Carrie Piffard; first consolation to Mrs. Simmers, second to Mrs. Blanche Kittredge. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Villa Sprague will entertain the Non Eaters Wednesday at Camp Drew Drop, Pleasant River.

Mr. and Mrs. George Swears and daughter Monica are home from Hartford, Conn.

Richard and Gertrude Parley of Portland were recent guests of Miss Lillian Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Columb returned Saturday to Springfield, Mass., after two weeks' visit with Mrs. Columb's mother, Mrs. Geneva Mills.

Miss Phyllis Black has returned from Schenectady, N. Y., where she was guest of her sister Mrs. Alton Lewis.

Miss Lillian Ross who has been spending the vacation with her father James Ross and sister Miss Elizabeth Ross, returned Monday to Boston.

Dorothy and Marjorie Craig of Auburndale, Mass., are at the Poole cottage at Arey's Harbor.

Mrs. Armand R. Tibbitts and daughter Rosanne and M. J. Ormond returned Tuesday to Greenwich, Conn., having been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peaslee.

Mrs. Cleo Ross and daughter Patricia of Caribou are guests of Mrs. Ross's sister, Mrs. Floyd Robertson.

Mrs. Max Conway and children, Clarence, Van and Harry are visiting Mrs. Merle Hutchinson in Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Kimball of Dover-Foxcroft are spending a week's vacation at the Gregory Homestead.

Members of Marguerite Chapter, O.E.S., who attended School of Instruction held in Rockland, July 17, were: W. M., Lois Webster who served as Worthy Matron at the exemplification of the work, Isabelle Calderwood, who served as candidate. Others were Mrs. Raymond Webster and Mrs. James Calderwood.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bray are home from Boston for a two weeks' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cooper and daughter Sandra of Augusta spent the weekend as guests of Mrs. Maude Cooper, Mrs. Ora W. Jones and Frederick Jones.

Miss Helen Hopkins has returned to Bucksport having been guest of her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Burns.

Mrs. Graham Claytor who has been at "The Moors" went Sunday to Biddeford Pool.

Aug. 2 is the date of the Fair to be held in Union Church vestry, sponsored by the Elizabeth Hutchison Bible Class.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Segal, who have been guests of Mrs. Segal's mother, Mrs. Maurice Calderwood returned Saturday to Boston.

Staff Sgt. Eugene Burgess has returned from Lovell Hospital, where he was a surgical patient. He is on a 45-day furlough. Mrs. Burgess accompanied him.

Union Church Circle will meet meet Thursday and serve supper at 5.30. Housekeepers are Mrs. Muriel Lane, Mrs. Lucille Carver, Mrs. Evelyn Young.

Walter Smith of Rockville, Conn., and family are spending a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Langtry Smith.

The Farm Bureau will meet to night at the home of Mrs. Leo W. Lane, with Mrs. Lane and Miss Phyllis Black as hostesses. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Seth Hanley (Geraldine Robertson) is in Virginia to pass the Summer with her husband Corp. Hanley.

Barbara Strum and Zelma Perlin of New York, artists, are making pictures of scenery about town in water colors. They are guests at the Central Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Middleton and Mr. and Mrs. William Massey were guests Sunday of Mrs. J. C. Christie and son at Vinalhaven.

The Black Cat

(Continued from Page One)

nine standards now visible to the naked eye, and almost as naked as the eye itself, anything is proper this Summer. Leading to the belief that nudist camps may not be confined to restricted areas in the near future.

An unclaimed hat which had seen better days fluttered around Main street the other day, getting many knocks from passing traffic. The incident reminded Ralph Trim of a trip he made from Camden to Rockport one day and counted 13 hats in the highway. It was either a March day or the beginning of the halless era.

I learned from their sister while she was here that Louis Rosenbloom is located in New York and Herman is in Detroit. Many friends have inquired as to their whereabouts.

Lou Kellar, the Thorndike barber, has a pet cat which is mighty glad when the Summer season comes. Believe it or not Mr. Ripley, that feline is crazy about cantaloupes.

One year ago: The Republican County Committee organized with E. Stewart Orbeton as chairman—Freeman L. Roberts of Vinalhaven was seriously injured in a hay rake accident—Three hundred attended the picnic of the Union Farmers' Co-operative Trading Club at Seven Tree Pond—Church of God camp-meeting was in session at Appleton—Among the deaths: Thomaston, Mrs. Martha Cogan, 76; Keene, N. H., Mrs. Ralph Ayers, formerly of Thomaston; Rockland, Roland S. Rackliffe, 63; Camden, Mrs. Stephen G. Ritterbush, 79; Rockland, Capt. Robert A. Snow, 61; Rockland, Herbert S. Butler, 67; Union, Benjamin F. Jones, 66.

Mass., for a visit.

Mrs. Maynard Bowley is a patient at Bath Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Amos Norton and Mrs. Madeline Maloney and daughter Judith were callers Wednesday on Mrs. Josie Robbins.

Mrs. Gertrude Monkhouse, Mrs. Enoch Higgins, Mrs. James Patterson and Mrs. Clifford Pitts of Portland enjoyed a lobster dinner at Lincolnville Beach recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Braley and son of Melrose, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Watts.

Miss Faith Ludwig passed the week-end with her grandmother, Mrs. Beth Wellman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Taylor went Friday to Winesburg, N. H., to attend the wedding Saturday of Mr. Taylor's grandson, Lt. (jg.) Charles Simonson and Miss Lucille Peaslee.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Webster of Cape Elizabeth announce the marriage of their daughter, Mildred, to son, John, on return to Malden, Larkin Thorndike.

INTIMATE VIEWS OF VINALHAVEN

History, Home Life and Personal Recollections

By SIDNEY L. WINSLOW

Fishermen have many adventures and hairbreadth escapes but with them "it's all in the day's work" and they soon forget them; they are expert seamen and entirely familiar with the ocean's caprices.

So Dave Jones' toll from them is comparatively small, and speaking of strange adventures I think I will close today's historical article with the

THE HEAD AND TALE OF A SHARK

Strange stories there be that come up from the sea. Though the truth of them oft you may question, But if fond of these tales about fishes and whales Then listen (to my suggestion).

Now a feller named Mark, tells me a tale of a shark Which is somewhat uncanny and gory "And it's title," said Mark, "is 'The Head of a Shark' Which makes head and tail to the story."

"So listen to me and I'll tell you," said he, "A yarn which I think is a corker."

And it happened one day in the middle of May, On Johnny Baggs' boat "Mishawaka."

That he left port that morn'g, it was just before dawn And our boat, not a wave then distressed her,

But along about noon came a change in the tune, Through the teeth of a smoky sou'wester.

From that morn till mid-day we just scoured the bay And all realized we'd just made a blunder,

That we'd not get a bite if we stayed there all night For the sharks they were thicker than thunder.

Billy Philbrook was blue as he bit off a chew And his anger grew hotter and hotter,

But he clung to his line and did not curse nor whine Though he viciously spat in the water."

"Now on my behalf, I just grabbed up a gaff, While dorsal fins 'round us was seening."

And just for a lark hooked the prong in a shark And yanked him up over the railin'."

Its big starey eyes gazed at me in surprise As out of the sea I did snatch it."

But I stepped on his tail, held him up to the rail And looped off his head with a hatchet."

Soon the carcass was being floated off with the tide, While the head lay on deck near a doorway."

You may think it queer, but wait till you hear What's the earliest part of the story."

"Well tear me to rags!" shouted Cap'n John Baggs (Who acted as skipper and steward)

"And strike me down dead, 'tis a shark with no head That I now see approaching from leeward!"

"Yes sir, strange to relate (now please get this straight) That shark o'er the water was skinnin'!"

And the fact we did note, that it wasn't afloat But that that buggered critter was swimmin'!"

"And the Cap'n was right, 'twas an uncanny sight And my eyes popped right out from their sockets,

It was scarier you know and my legs trembled so, They shook all the look on deck near a doorway."

Billy Philbrook turned white from excitement or fright, Though when danger's near Bill is no slacker,

Then he staggered and fell as he let out a yell And swallered his chew of tobacco."

But the shark with no head that we all thought was dead, Still hung 'round the old Mishawaka."

And it acted so queer it soon made us all fear That we'd end up in Davey Jones' locker."

But as quick as a wink I just happened to think, And I tossed the shark's head o'er the railin'."

For the shark wasn't dead, he'd come back for his head And that's why our boat he was trailin'."

And strike me down dead, soon's that shark got his head The weather came peaceful and balmy."

And long before dark not the sign of a shark, He'd just marched them all off like an army."

And from then until night, how the haddock did bite, And soon into port he was sailin'."

Boy, we had enough fish to fulfill every wish He was loaded plumb down to the railin'."

"That's the story," said Mark called "The Head of a Shark" 'Tis a yarn that's uncanny and gory."

And believe it or not, it's all true to the dot," (Then Mark paddled away in his dory.)

Smallest In Years

Lack of Pollination Damaged Apple Crop More Than The Freeze

The smallest apple crop in 35 years—only 33 per cent of last year's production is forecast for New England by the crop reporting service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The service estimated that only 2,201,000 bushels would be gathered this year compared with the 1944 crop of 6,741,000 bushels and the 10 year average (1934-1943) of 6,079,000 bushels.

Frost and freeze did considerable damage to orchards, the service said, but the cold, rainy weather of April and May kept bees in their hives and as a result lack of pollination "did more damage than frost."

The service predicted that Massachusetts crop would be 24 per cent under last year's; Connecticut's, 45 per cent; Maine's 38 per cent, and the other states one-third of the 1944 production.

"Suicidal Hanging"

Dr. North's Verdict In The Death Of a Rockport Man

Cecil Adelbert Ames, 38, died suddenly night at his residence in Rockport, Dr. Charles D. North of Rockland making a pronouncement that death resulted from "suicidal hanging."

Mr. Ames was born in Fort Fairfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Solon. He had been employed in the Camden Shipyard and more lately at the munitions shipping plant in Searsport. He had been a resident of Rockport for one year.

Besides his wife, Muriel (Proctor) Ames, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Adelbert Solon, a daughter, Donna Mae, seven months; and a son Vernon Ellis, 2½ years.

Services will be conducted Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock from the P. J. Good Funeral Home in Camden. Rev. C. Vaughn Overman of the Rockport Baptist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Seaview cemetery, Rockport.

SOUTH THOMASTON

Church Notes

Sunday School is held each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Miss Louise Butler is the superintendent, with Mrs. Ella Watts, Mrs. Flora Eaum, Miss Ava Wiggins and Mrs. Ermine Tyler as teachers. It is worthy of mention that one rainy Sunday, in the absence of any adults 11 youngsters attended and conducted a well-ordered worship service.

Meetings are held Tuesday nights at 7:30 with song service and interesting sermons. The second Sunday of each month, an evening service is conducted by Rev. James W. Barr.

An official board meeting is held the second Tuesday of each month, with officers and others present. The yearly budget is made up thus: Salary of pastor, $263; conference claims, $49; benevolences, $22; janitor, $52; Sunday School supplies, $30; incidentals, $10; total, $423.

The Budget Committee sent a letter and pledge card to each family in the community. Response to these have been gratifying and those families, who have not replied will be canvassed by a member of the church in the near future.

A vacation Bible School was held the week of June 18, under the direction of Rev. James W. Barr. Assisting him were Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Marion Colby, Mrs. Sylvia Buma and the Misses Joan Baum and Ava Wiggins. Much handwork was accomplished, Bible verses and songs learned. Games were enjoyed by the children and the school closed with a concert on Children's Day. This was special program and was well attended.

A Comforted Mother

Mrs. Margaret Elwell Is Certain Her Son's In Good Hands

Spruce Head, July 20.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—To the many mothers who have sons in the service and who are worried as to their spiritual welfare I would like to send an extract from my son's letter written from the Pacific and I hope it will help them as much as it did me.

"Well Mom today is Sunday and we have a Chaplain aboard and we are to have both Catholic and Protestant services on deck. One of the Gunner's Mates is to be baptized. It will be a very nice service."

"(Later): We have had one divine service. I enjoyed it very much. Two of the fellows were baptized. There was holy communion. The chaplain is a very nice man. I sure hope we have the luck to have him with us all the way through. A fellow needs someone like him to talk to out here."

It is so comforting to know our boys are in good hands spiritually as well as their physical needs. We can rest assured they will return to us well in mind and soul, as well as in body. Mrs. Margaret Elwell.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Many music lovers from this city are planning to attend the Baptist Choral Society Concert in Thomaston tomorrow (Wednesday) night. Dean Harris Stackpole Shaw, A.A.G.O. of Boston will be present. The concert program will be at 8 o'clock.

Services for Barbara Perry Beverage, formerly of Rockland, who died in Lynn, Mass., July 19, will be held in North Haven this afternoon at 2 o'clock. She was the wife of Lieut. Milton Ames Beverage of North Haven, who, at the time of her death was stationed at a Prisoner of War Camp in Virginia. Obituary deferred.

Rockland Lodge of Elks has big doings in store for tonight, when a class of "goat-riders" will be initiated, after due justice has been done to a boiled lobster supper.

Captain T. O. Brooks is home from overseas on a 30-day furlough. He has flown 63 missions in a B-26 as lead navigator in Italy, France, Germany and Austria. He wears the DFC air medal with five Oak Leaf clusters, the Purple Heart, the European Theatre Ribbon, with five battle stars, the distinguished Unit Badge and the Croix de Guerre, avec Palm. It is given few men to win more honors than that in the same length of time.

NORTH SEARSMONT

Sgt. Clayton Poland has received his discharge under the point system.

Mrs. Carol Jillion, Mrs. Darnie Gardner, Miss Christine Norwood, Mrs. Ann Follett and Miss Helen Follett were recent callers at the Maddocks home.

Tsgt. Roland Jackson is enjoying a 30-day furlough with Mrs. Jackson (Bertha Millay of Liberty). Sgt. Jackson returned July 9 after a year in the European theatre, with Gen. Patton's Third Army.

Sgt. and Mrs. Jackson spent the week-end at the home of his father, George L. Jackson.

Harold Hook was a recent business visitor in Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Maker have returned to Melrose after a vacation spent with Mrs. Clara Hook. Recent callers at the Hook home were Mrs. John Mallin and daughter Mrs. Polly Hook and daughters of Bayside, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hook of Skowhegan.

"GOOD! Now Bill and I can Play Off That Match!"

Portland, Maine — July 8, 1945

U. S. Weather Bureau Official Forecast

All New England States—Fair weather with moderately low humidity and comfortable temperatures Sunday and Monday.

Eastport to Rock Island—Gentle day and Monday.

Eastport to Rock Island—Gentle day and Monday.

Westport to Rock Island—Pleasant weather with moderately low humidity and comfortable temperatures Sunday and Monday.

Sunday and Monday. The highest temperature Sunday will be near 80 degrees. Gentle westerly winds Sunday and Monday.

Periodic temperatures Saturday: 2:30 a. m., 67; 8:30 a. m., 74; 1:00 p. m., 82; 8:30 p. m., 74.

Maximum temperature 86; minimum temperature 68.

Mean temperature 77.

Precipitation 0.

Maximum temperatures at other Maine stations: Presque Isle, 77; Bangor, 75; Houlton, 82; Bangor, 81; Greenville, 78; Eastport, 82; Millbrook, 81; Brunswick, 82; and Augusta, 80.

Highest and lowest temperatures on record for June 8: 98 in 1937 and 51 in 1912.

Almanac for Monday, July 9: Sun sets 7:10; moon sets 1:10; high tide 1:10; low tide 7:10; sunrise 4:10; sunset 8:10; moonrise 1:10; moonset 7:10.

Monday's phases: New 3:30; first 1:10; full 1:10; last 1:10.

July 17-24 First & July 31-Aug. 7 Last

The complete United States Weather report and almanac for Maine is a regular feature of the Portland Sunday Telegram... one of the many features that make this paper a reading "must" for State-of-Mainers!

Portland Sunday Telegram

They've Got MOXIE!

WHEN THE TEMPO'S SPEEDING FASTER... BRACE UP WITH MOXIE

TANGY-DRY-STOPS THIRST

Delicious with all Sea Foods

SERVE WINSLOW'S POTATO CHIPS

Two-flavor TASTE-TEMPER

Fro-joy Sealtest ICE CREAM

Sealtest VANILLA MARSHMALLOW ICE CREAM and Real Fruit STRAWBERRY MILK SHERBET

Creamy, Sealtest Vanilla Marshmallow Ice Cream. A frosty, real fruit sherbet, colorful with crimson strawberries—as delightful to the eye as to the taste! Enjoy them both in the convenient Sealtest Pint Package. Surprise the family with Sealtest's latest two-flavor taste-temper.

YOU CAN ALWAYS DEPEND ON Sealtest Quality

FRO-JOY Sealtest ICE CREAM AND MILK SHERBETS

Division of National Dairy Products Corporation

Join the fun in the Sealtest Village Store, starring Jack Haley, Thursdays, 9:30 P. M., NBC Network.

THOMASTON

ADY'S O. CONDOM
Correspondent
Tel. 113-3

Among those who passed Saturday in Portland were the Misses Eloise Saunders and Jean Richmond, Pine street; Marguerite Brown, Weeks street; Phyllis Delano, Washington street, and the latter's cousin, Gertrude Hanley, of Thomaston, who is passing a week in Bath. —Bath Times.

New books at the Public Library include: Wings Across the World, by Hugh B. Crane; Goodbye Proud World, Margaret Bailey; American Chronicle, Bay S. Baker; Constanza Herself, Margaret Widdemer; Red Fruit, Temple Bailey; and Silver Moon Cottage, Sara Ware Bassett. The Baptist Ladies Circle will serve a public chicken supper tomorrow at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Ella Merrow of Brewer is visiting Mrs. Ashley Hubbard.

Miss Ruth Smalley of Worcester, Mass., is visiting her cousin, Miss Lella Clark, Green street.

Mrs. Theodore Konelick spent the week-end with her parents with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stanley at Monhegan.

Mrs. Reino Saastamolin was hostess to the R. B. Club Saturday night at her home in Cushing. Those present were: Mrs. Roger Morse, Mrs. Lewis Johnson, Mrs. Robert Wolfe, Miss Phyllis Hall, Miss Lucy Adams, Miss Beverly Kirkpatrick, all of Thomaston and Mrs. Herbert Wood of Rockland.

Robert Hall S2c and Robert Armstrong S2c who have been passing a furlough with their parents, left today for New Jersey where they will enter the Seabees.

Mrs. Francis Donohue of New York was guest Thursday of Miss Anna Donohue.

MSgt. and Mrs. William T. Smith, Jr. who have been spending two week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stanley at Monhegan. William T. Smith, have returned to Walla Walla, Wash. They were accompanied as far as Boston by his parents.

Misses Wilma and Henrietta Sheffield who are now in New Jersey, spent Thursday in Washington, D. C. and while there called on Rep. Margaret Chase Smith.

Chester Seymour of West Hartford, Conn., is guest of Miss Helen Carr.

The annual meeting of Knox Memorial Association will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. Open house will be observed with reduced admission. Hostesses will be in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Grafton assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knights, entertained the We Two Club Monday night at a lobster stew supper at their home on Brooklyn Heights. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carroll, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ames.

Pythian Sisters and families will enjoy a lobster stew dinner at 1 o'clock Sunday at the McCarter Farm, Cushing. Each is to take own dishes, silver and sugar. All those who plan to attend and anyone who could provide transportation, may get in contact with Mrs. Blanche Wilson, before Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Washburn have returned to their home at Old Orchard Beach after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walsh.

The Garden Club was delightfully entertained Thursday for its annual picnic at the interesting home of Mrs. P. F. Broughton in Cushing. Thirty members were present and Mrs. Merley James and Mrs. Broughton were added to the membership of the club. The entertain-

BEAT GLOUCESTER'S DRAGGERS

The Thomaston built Rockland dragger Eugene H., owned by Rhama E. Philbrick, was high line of all the Gloucester fleet from Jan. 1, to July 30 of this year. She brought in red fish during that period to the tune of 1,175,000 pounds.

"For God and Country"

WINSLOW HOLBROOK
POST, NO. 1
Limerock St., Rockland

Legion membership is valuable, but the value of membership in the organization cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Membership and attendance at the meetings promote comradeship. All this leads up to many activities that will not only benefit each member but also the community.

The first duty of the American Legion is the proper care of the disabled veterans and the dependents of World War I and II. So many veterans and their families never think of the Legion until the veteran dies.

ment in the afternoon was under the direction of Miss Margaret Ruggles.

The Public Library has among its new books: All 'Tiro' the Night by Grace Livingston Hill; Wicked Sister, Helen Topping Miller; Jennifer's House, Christine Gowan; Died in the Wool, Ngaio Marsh; Green Hazard, Eberhart; Wings of Fear, Manning Coles; Pay-Off for the Banker, Francis and Richard Licking; The Iron Gates, Margaret Miller.

Mrs. Herbert Newbert was hostess recently to the Busy Eight Club at her cottage at Jefferson Lake. A chicken pie dinner was served. Those present were: Mrs. Minnie Wilson, Mrs. Lettie Starrett, Mrs. Lucy Silvery, Mrs. Dora Kallach, Mrs. Lawrence Hahn, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Josephine Tabbutt and Miss Harriet Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Burton and children, Priscilla, Anita and Robert, are spending the Summer at their home at Monhegan.

The new 92-foot Fishing Dragger Aloha will be launched from the Newbert and Wallace boat yard Saturday at 1:30 p. m. This boat is owned by Joseph S. Dolan, Jr. of Guilford, Conn.

How about that crushed granite driveway? Inexpensive and most satisfactory. Stone for wells and cesspools. Call for estimate. Phone Rockland 21-13 or Tenant's Harbor, 56-13. John Meehan & Son—adv.

Back From Bataan

The Story of an American Soldier Who Got His Man, and Came To Himself

(By Leo R. Connellan)

My name was Rod Conway, my age 22. I was dressed in dark trousers with polo shirt to match. I was taking an evening stroll in late sunlight. It was just 8 o'clock by the watch on my wrist.

I was headed for a local park, a park which had benches and trees and grass, and ducks and trained squirrels, all of which I had not seen for three years.

A guy rented rowboats you could use for an hour. You went to a little store to pay him and get oars. I wanted a rowboat to take out on the pond where I could relax and look at the ducks. I walked across the rustic bridge into the little store, laid down my dollar and picked out my oars. My boat was a dry one, the driest I could find. It was hitched near the shoreline to a sturdy post.

In back of me, across the street, a ball game was on; teams of a twilight league were playing six innings. Most people watched this game. No one was rowing. I pushed my boat from shore and started my stroking. The pool took a sharp left turn and passed several benches. On one of these a sailor sat, his arm about his girl. I looked up with admiration at her smooth features. Women was another thing that I had missed.

Then I got self-conscious again. The same old self-sympathy rose in my breast. My fingers clawed 'neath my shirt and felt my thin body, a body through which the ribs showed clearly, because for seven months I had been hospitalized.

The water beyond these two was dirty and narrow. I pulled up the oars and let my boat drift. I lit up a cigaret and leaned back against the seat, watching the ducks and looking at the heavens. Suddenly one duck quacked and soon other ducks came and hovered around her. Slick as a shavetail, she got them in order and, in the lead, led them away.

My cigaret was half gone. I hung on impatiently. Many were the times I'd wished for one to smoke in the past back at Cabanatuan, behind prison wires.

I was in San Francisco on December seventh, half-trained, but nevertheless ready to ship to the front. My company landed southwest of Leyte at seventeen hundred, on Dec. 18.

When Wainwright had to quit, I was on Luzon with six Filipinos and three broken wings. We got new ones from Japan, from some of her soldiers. We pushed on inland and started a private war.

Some 53 Jap boys we sent to a graveyard with those guns from Nippon and cool trigger fingers. It was good while it lasted but I didn't last. Our luck ran out one day in July.

We lasted the death march, how I don't know. We went to Cabanatuan to sit the war out. Through all my long months there I kept myself happy by picking out Jap boys that some day I'd get one in particular, a fat young lieutenant, a sadist by nature, who pushed me around too much, was high on my list. If only I could get him I'd feel swell, I told myself.

As days, weeks and months rolled by, I grew quite restless and began to give up hope. It seemed as if I'd always work in rice paddies, loin-cloth about my waist, knee-deep in water.

The raid by the rangers was just like a godsend. They came in quite swiftly, yelling "O.K. Americans! Up and attem! Head for the front gate as fast as you can!"

I stopped a G.I. Joe and asked for his pistol. Weak as I was, I wanted to fight. I got my lieutenant, and oh! what a pleasure! Eight solid times, right in his guts. He looked like a tire after a blowout. Boy! Was I happy to see him go down!

They gave me the D.S.C. and hospitalization. They spent seven months getting me on my feet. At last came this long sought day when I came to Portville, and hired a

ROCKPORT

E. A. CHAMPNEY
Correspondent
Tel. 228

Austin C. Whitney of Scranton, Pa., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Whitney, for a few days.

The Baptist Sewing Circle will hold a fair Wednesday at 2 o'clock on the church lawn.

Mrs. Muriel Richards of Patterson, N. J., is visiting her mother Mrs. Myra Giles for two weeks.

Mrs. Nellie Jordan who has been visiting Mrs. Belle Coates, went Saturday to Hempstead, N. Y.

Miss Dorothy Burns of Baltimore, is spending three weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orris Burns.

Mrs. J. W. Raver and daughter, Bettie of Baltimore are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oris Burns.

Isadore Latener of Philadelphia, a student of Mme Lea Luboshutz is at the home of Mrs. Belle Cates for the season.

Russell Upham went Sunday to Portland where he will attend a New England Tel. & Tel. Co. school for one week.

Mrs. Amy Miller returned Friday from a short visit in Methuen, Mass.

The Johnson Society will meet Wednesday with Miss Marion Weidman.

Mrs. Flora Flanders, who has had rooms in the Martin building for several months, is moving to Rockland where she will make her future home.

Mrs. Linthel Lane, who has been a patient at Knox Hospital, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sylvester returned Sunday from New Hampshire where they have been visiting friends.

Joseph Marshall of Bath spent the week-end in town.

George and William Nash of Portland, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roland F. Crockett, returned home Sunday.

Miss Carolyn Dow of Peaks Island

rowboat and looked into the sky above.

The voice of a young girl interrupted my thinking. She asked me for a boat ride. I said, "Sure."

She was wearing a white dress without any sleeves. She was probably 20 and looked pretty cute. She had a swell sun tan, and didn't use any lipstick. I sat there just looking while my heart pounded faster.

She asked me if she could row. Again I said, "Sure." I was still looking at her as she took over. At last we got talking, finally about the war. She asked me had I been in, I told her "Yes."

She asked me where I had served. I bitterly told her. She looked up with pretty eyes, brown and large and full of understanding. She pulled out a wallet from a dress-pocket and loosened some photos for me to look at. They were of an army guy of perhaps 39. She called him father and told me the story.

He'd fought in—Europe, and he'd been taken in Italy. He'd died a slow weary death inside barbed wire.

I began to awaken, and within me a spirit of hope began to burn. I'd been self-centered, forgotten the German War. I hadn't given it too much thought. And something else got me, brought tears to my eyes. This girl was taking it just like a soldier. She wasn't crying or sympathizing with herself. She was realistic and facing cold facts. If she could, so could I. That I determinedly said over and over to myself as she rowed on.

We spent that last hour in reverent silence, each thinking private thought as we saw fit. I left that boat-ride with her address, and with shoulders uplifted and head held high.

I finally recovered and got a war job, and for the first time in four years I thought of the future.

I thought of a little house, and a private pond, with my very own ducks. I thought of the girl in white, and how she'd look held in my arms as I carried her across the threshold of our new home.

Presents With Pride

Thomaston Choral Society Numbers Ace Artists In Concert Effects

The annual concert of the Thomaston Baptist Choral Society tomorrow (Wednesday) night, will be preceded by a reception to Dean Harris Stackpole Shaw, AAGO of Boston, at 7:10 o'clock.

A violin ensemble from the Mueller Studio will play at that time.

The concert program at 8 o'clock will consist of:

Selections for the Organ
Mr. Shaw, organist
Sonata (Handel)
Mrs. Hazel Mueller, violinist
Mrs. Grace E. Major, pianist
Silver collection
Violin Ensemble
Two groups for two Harps
Mimi Allen and Ruth Moore
Two chorals
Choral Society
Mr. Shaw at the organ is visiting Miss Priscilla Crockett.

Mrs. Theresa DeMers of Somersworth, N. H., is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Wilson.

New Principal

Arthur Frew, for three years principal of Andover High School, is to be the new principal of Rockport High and will assume his duties Sept. 1. He is a native of Berlin, N. H., and graduate of Stephens High School, Rumford, also Bates College, and obtained a master's degree in history at Columbia University.

Mrs. Louis Cheney of Webster, Mass., spent the past week with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sykes.

Guests of Miss Edith Knight, Elm street, are Miss Helen Bolden of Boston, Margaret Eccles of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Anne Buckley of Auburndale, Mass.

At the Grange card party Saturday, Miss Harriet Gill won first

CAMDEN

MISS HELEN M. RICH
Correspondent
Tel. 2214

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Stevenson and daughter, Jannice, of Rockland, Mass., are visiting A. B. Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lord and daughters, Judy and Becky, of Washington, D. C., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lord and Mr. and Mrs. John Mathews.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. E. Codman of Philadelphia are spending a few weeks at Whitehall Inn.

Li Douglas Fuller has returned to Fort Devens after a furlough with his family.

Recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Millington were Sgt. and Mrs. James Poor of Fort Lewis, Wash. and Mrs. Whitney Boutelle and daughter Marcia, Townsend, Mass.

Mrs. Lebo of Philadelphia is guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Melvin H. Dorr, Jr.

Mrs. Louis Cheney of Webster, Mass., spent the past week with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sykes.

Guests of Miss Edith Knight, Elm street, are Miss Helen Bolden of Boston, Margaret Eccles of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Anne Buckley of Auburndale, Mass.

At the Grange card party Saturday, Miss Harriet Gill won first prize. Mrs. Luella Tuttle, second, and Roy Hynes, the consolation. There will be another party next Saturday.

The Auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans will hold a sale Friday, at Megunticook Grange hall. A public supper will be served at 6:30.

A special communication of Amity Lodge is called for Friday night at the Masonic hall. The Master Mason's degree will be conferred upon one candidate. Refreshments will be served.

Service at the P. J. Good funeral home will be held today at 2:30 o'clock for Burton Sands Hunt, 78, who died Sunday in Searsmont following a brief illness. Mr. Hunt was born in Belmont, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hunt, and had resided in Searsmont 13 years. A son, Arthur S. of this town, survives, also a sister, Mrs. Warren Pitcher of Lincolnville, two brothers, Milbury of Belfast and Charles of Togus, and a grandson, Sands Hunt. Burial will be in Mountain View cemetery.

How about that crushed granite driveway? Inexpensive and most satisfactory. Stone for wells and cesspools. Call for estimate. Phone Rockland 21-13 or Tenant's Harbor, 56-13. John Meehan & Son—adv.

NORTH SEARSMONT

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Small and granddaughter Anne of Belfast spent a few days at their camp here, recently.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps

American Optical Company

Southbridge, Mass.

Will interview on the following schedule those interested in permanent jobs in the Optical Field

Date: Thursday, July 26, 1945
Time: 10.00 A. M. to 4.00 P. M.
Place: U. S. E. S. Office
447 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND, ME.

FACTS

LOCATION: American Optical Company is located in Southbridge, Massachusetts, a clean, attractive town of 18,000 people within a sixty mile radius of Boston, Providence, Hartford or Springfield. It has excellent public and parochial schools, churches, and recreational facilities, as well as a library, YMCA, motion picture theatre, and country club.

THE COMPANY: American Optical Company is the largest manufacturer of ophthalmic materials in the world. It is essential in peace as well as war. It is a steady, vital industry which renders a genuine service to society. The company has been in business since 1833.

TYPES OF JOBS: Openings for the most part exist on the second and third shifts (5 P. M. to 2:30 A. M. and 11 P. M. to 7 A. M.) AO is mainly interested in physically-able men, who are willing to learn an interesting manual trade, provided they are fully eligible for a Statement of Availability. Since AO is a "family" company, we are encouraging entire families to come and live in Southbridge. There are openings for women, too, on any shift. Note the "checklist" below. It covers the main points about American Optical Company which will interest you. All new employees are fully trained, with pay, in the types of jobs for which they are best qualified.

Plan now for an interview at the time shown above—it may open the way for an interesting and profitable future.

CHECK LIST

- ☐ Essential in war and peace.
- ☐ Good standard of pay.
- ☐ Excellent working conditions.
- ☐ Paid vacations.
- ☐ Steady, secure employment.
- ☐ Pay while training.
- ☐ Free house-hunting service.
- ☐ Government housing available.

American Optical COMPANY

PERSONALITY
PERMANENTS

MACHINE OR MACHINELESS

From $5.00

HELENE CURTIS
COLD WAVES

From $10.00

Let us give a PERSONALITY PERMANENT. We'll style your hair in a flattering coiffure that will be easy to keep and very becoming. No split or dry ends, no straggling curls. You'll be more than pleased.

Closed Wednesday afternoons during the Summer months.

GILBERT'S BEAUTY SALON

375 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND, PHONE 142 29-T-11

Straws In The Air

When the sun beats down on you and you still want to be cool, reach for your straw hat off the rack.

Today, straw hats are smart. They are designed to go with your sport outfits.

As usual—famous brands from which to choose your favorite shape and color.

$2.50, $3.00, $3.50,
$5.00, $6.00
Swim'n' Play Shorts
$3.00
Sport Shorts
$3.00 to $8.50

GREGORY'S

TOP TO TOE OUTFITTERS
416 MAIN ST., TEL. 294

OPPORTUNITY

KNOCKS
in the
WANT-ADS
The Courier-Gazette

Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y.
FRANCHISED BOTTLER: PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO. OF AUBURN

Social Matters

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alperin, who revisited Mr. Alperin's former Rockland home last week, returned Sunday to Pittsfield, Mass. In addition to meeting many of Mr. Alperin's old friends the couple had the pleasure of sampling shore dinners all the way from Friendship to Lincolnville Beach. They made a solemn promise not to allow another 15 years to pass before they again visit Rockland.

Miss Marion Healey, who has been making her home in Springfield, Mass., for a number of years, arrived Saturday to again take up her residence in Rockland. She will enter the employ of the Hinton-Tuttle store.

Mrs. Florence Knowlton was hostess to the W.I.N. Club for cards and luncheon at last week's meeting.

Mrs. Charles M. Richardson entertained Thursday, at cards and buffet luncheon, at the cottage occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Bird of Revere, Mass., at Crescent Beach. High contract scorers were Mrs. Henry H. Randall, Harrington F. Mayo, Walter H. Bird and Miss Carol Ann Wolcott, while the low score award went to Mr. Randall. Others present were Mrs. Walter H. Bird, Mrs. Riah Knight, Harry M. Pratt and Mrs. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Peterson of Portland were week-end guests of Mrs. Margaret F. Perry. Their son, Pvt. Clarence Peterson, who is at the home of his wife in Traveler's Rest, S. C., is expected in Portland some time in August. Their son, Sgt. Cobb Peterson is in the Philippines.

Rev. and Mrs. Alfred G. Hempstead and daughter, Betty, are spending two weeks at the Ralph U. Clark cottage, "Shoreholm," on Spruce Head Island. The weekly prayer meeting of the Methodist Church is being held at "Shoreholm" tonight at 7.30, and there will follow a social hour or two.

Benjamin Perry and Alfreda Perry, Camden street, returned from Knox Hospital where they underwent tonsilectomies.

Edwin A. Moore of Portland spent the weekend at the home of his son, James A. Moore, Glen Cove.

Among those entertaining for dinner at the Hotel Rockland were Mrs. Willard C. Dart, who is staying at The Copper Kettle, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Glover.

TODAY AND WEDNESDAY
GREER GARRON
GREGORY PECK
in
"VALLEY OF DECISION"
Shows 2.00, 6.15, 8.30

THURS., FRI., SAT
PEARL BUCK'S
CHINA SKY
starring
SCOTT WARRICK - DREW
Shows 2.00, 6.40, 8.45

We Sell War Bonds Day and Night
Tel. 892 Strand
ROCKLAND, ME.

Mrs. Ethel Holmes spent the week-end in Portland, guest of Mrs. William Harvey.

Miss Martha Bird of Boston is visiting her brother, Walter H. Bird, and Mrs. Bird, at Crescent Beach.

Miss Nancy Snow and Miss Charlotte Cogan were in Bangor yesterday.

Jean Moran, Betty Long, Betty Griffith, Barbara Daniels, Mary Cates and Elizabeth Carr, who have been spending two weeks at Holt's camp in Trenton, have returned home.

Samuel Rubinstein has leased the Irvin Hix cottage at Crescent Beach for the Summer.

Miss Beverly U. Cogan, who has completed her course of training as a teleprinter operator at the Western Union School in Washington, N. J., and who now is employed at the company's office in Bath, spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. Ernest A. Rogers.

Miss Laura Pomeroy, counselor, and Miss Marion Ludwick, clerk, at Highmeadows Camp for Girls at Boothbay, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Pomeroy and Mr. and Mrs. C. Earle Ludwick.

Mrs. Fred S. Marsh and daughter Jean, are spending a few weeks at Damariscotta Lake.

Opportunity Class of the First Baptist Church met with Mrs. Bernice Leach, with 16 members present. It was reported that 18 calls were made during the previous month. Miss Alice McIntosh conducted the program which included readings by Mrs. Alice Kaler, Mrs. Ada Prescott and Mrs. Bernice Leach, a game of words and a Bible quiz. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carrie Hanner, Mrs. Louise Ingraham and Miss Edwina Jipson.

Mrs. Beulah Wishman is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Grafton, and grand-daughter Debra in Thomaston.

Mrs. Jane Bird entertained the Dorcas Club yesterday.

Commander Carl E. Herrick, U.S. C.G.R., and Mrs. Herrick have returned to Washington, D. C., after a 10-day leave with Mrs. Herrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Randall.

Henry H. Payson and Josiah H. Hobbs of Camden were in Old Orchard Saturday for the racing events.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jones of Bath have returned to their home in Clark Island for the Summer.

Miss Joan Howard of Deer Isle has been spending a week with Miss Bernice Perry and Miss Nina Johnson in Owl's Head.

HAVE YOU SEEN IT?
A Soldier in Europe presented to his wife, as Souvenir from Tunisia, a Sterling Silver Bracelet with Pink Ruby. This Bracelet, deeply cherished for its Sentimental Value only, was lost in vicinity Paramount Restaurant, Rockland.
Reward $25 - and heartfelt gratitude.
BETTY AMES
43 1/2 BROAD ST., ROCKLAND

WELCOME HOME CELEBRATION

Tendered In Warren To Pfc. Albert Harjula - Experiences in German Prison Camp

Pfc. Albert Harjula, 25, prisoner of the Germans for slightly over three months, now spending a 60-day furlough with his wife, Lois Robinson Harjula, and their 15 months old daughter, Jacqueline Lee, at Thomaston, was honor guest at a welcome home celebration given at Glover hall, Saturday night, the arrangements being made by his seven sisters, and four brothers in this country. He received as gifts a wrist watch from his brothers and sisters, and a purse of money from the 250 guests attending the reception. The presentation was made by P. L. S. Morse of Thomaston, school superintendent, who acted also as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Helping Pfc. and Mrs. Harjula were five friends in the services, home from various theatres of operations on furloughs in their homes in this vicinity. They were, Wilho Partinen, S. L. USN, wearing the Pacific ribbon with three major battle stars; S. Sgt. William Leppanen of St. George, of the 8th Air Force, wearing the ribbons signifying the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three Oak-Leaf Clusters, 4 Battle stars on his ETO bar, or ribbon; Pfc. Arthur Schildt of the St. George road of the 13th Infantry, with the Purple Heart, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, and 4 campaign stars on his ETO ribbon; Pfc. Edwin Knight of Rockland, 97th Infantry Division, with the Combat Infantryman's Badge, one campaign star on his ETO ribbon; and Sgt. William Linden of Friendship of the 8th Air Force, the ETO ribbon.

Program numbers included a greeting by Mr. Morse, song, "Home Sweet Home" by the seven sisters, Mrs. Emma Johnson, Mrs. Jennie Anderson of Georges River road; Mrs. Ida Partinen of Monson, Mrs. Ellen Nelson and Mrs. Esther Linden of Thomaston, Mrs. Eva Pease of Topsham and Mrs. Alma Duley of Bath; a speech by Emile Ruuska of St. George, who also introduced the other service men; a poem read by Miss Eleanor Nelson of Thomaston; violin solos played by Arthur Autio of Waldoboro; vocal solos by Mrs. Helen Merrill of Bath; vocal solos by Mrs. Aino Rissanen of Waldoboro; song by the company led by Orest Robinson of Thomaston. Accompanists were Mrs. Mildred Berry of Warren, and Mrs. Aino Rissanen of Waldoboro. Music was furnished also by the Georges River Boys.

Tables at the coffee service held at Warren Grange Hall, were gay with small flags, and a huge three-tier cake, iced in white and red, white and blue figures in the icing, a replica of the American flag on its top, and the words, "welcome home, Albert."

Pfc. Harjula, member of an infantry machine gun crew of the YD Division, was taken prisoner by the Germans, Jan. 8, 1945, at Wiltz, Luxembourg, while showing a medic the location that night of a wounded man on the field. The medic was shot twice, and Harjula pulled the wounded man one mile on a sled to a first aid station. That was the last he saw of the wounded soldier, and he himself was kept two weeks as a prisoner at a German Farm House, before being marched 30 miles to a civilian prison at Wittlich. Then following imprisonment at Stalag 12 A in Lindeberg, for a short time, he with others, was transferred by box car to Stalag 11 B at Fallingbomel. This transfer took six days and five nights, 65 men to a car, and no room to lie down at any time. There was only space enough for the men to sit down.

Confined in this last camp for two months, he lost 30 pounds in weight due to the diet of six to nine men to a single 20-ounce loaf of dark bread given them at 10 a. m. each day, and at 2 p. m. a turnip or rutabaga soup. Two such meals made up the day's rations, and barley tea was the beverage. No wonder the men talked continually about food.

The bunks in the unheated barracks were tiered in threes. There were no mattresses, not even loose straw to cover the bare boards, and one blanket each, only, was issued.

Two men slept in a single bunk, and the bunk mate of Harjula was Pvt. Walter Flanders of Rockland, who had been in the same outfit when captured.

For water, there was one faucet only, and the men tried their best to keep clean clothing by washing in cold water, as there was no heat at all. While some article of clothing was drying, they wrapped themselves up in their blankets, or else just went without. There was much pneumonia and two men died in the barracks. While in the civilian prison, one man moaned all night long with frozen feet. No fire powder was issued, and consequently the men were lousy.

Following liberation by the English April 16 Harjula was flown to England, and hospitalized for three weeks. After being discharged from the hospital for three days, he had to go back for further treatment. He also spent a week at the Station Hospital at Fort Devens, Mass., before returning home for his furlough. His wife had in January, received word he was missing, and on their daughter's first birthday anniversary, that he was a prisoner of war.

Pfc. Harjula wears the Bronze Star for capture of a German pilot box, containing 13 Germans in the Saar area (he was with Patton's Third); and two campaign stars, one for the Bulge, and the second for the Saar River.

Pfc. Harjula entered the service July, 1943, following training at Fort Belvoir Va., and the Atlantic Ordnance Depot in Atlanta, Ga., was sent overseas in July, 1944. After training in England he was sent to France for action last November. Before entering the service, he was employed at the Bath Iron Works. His younger brother, one of the sir, Pvt. Elmer Harjula is in Austria with a field artillery battalion. With the exception of Pvt. Elmer Harjula the family was present at the party Saturday evening, the seven sisters and five brothers, the first time they had all been together for a number of years.—By Alena Starrett.

EDWIN A. DEAN
Edwin Arthur Dean, 76 florist, market gardener and manufacturer of sauerkraut, who died Friday, was born in Rockland, son of Hanson and Elizabeth Day Dean. Mr. Dean took a great pride in his gardens of beautiful flowers at his home at 466 Old County Road, and during his lifetime he manufactured and distributed an immense quantity of high grade sauerkraut. He was devoted to his family and highly industrious.

May 1, 1899, Mr. Dean was married to Nettie Heckbert, sister of the late Charles E. Heckbert. Mrs. Dean is a native of Summerside, Prince Edward Island, Canada, and had lived in Rockland a year and a half before marriage.

Mrs. Dean survives and the other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Simon D. Crosby of Rockland, and Mrs. Sidney D. Arey of New York; a brother, William O. Dean of Rockland; a son, Harold A. Dean of Rockland; five grandchildren, Misses Kathleen W. Dean and Kathryn W. Dean, Mrs. John Paul M. Korhonen, Arthur P. Dean and Norman E. Dean, and a great-grandson, Jerrold Dean, all of Rockland.

Heavy, indeed, was the loss of a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Watson, and a grandson, Maynard Watson, about 10 years ago.

Services were held Sunday at the late residence, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald officiating. The many beautiful floral offerings attested to the love and esteem in which Mr. Dean was held by his many friends and relatives. The bearers were C. Maynard Havenner, Fred E. Moore, Lester A. Post and Allie Eaton. Interment was in Achorn cemetery.

Mrs. Ward E. Stone and daughter, Mary, came from Exeter, N. H., Saturday to join her husband and daughters, Misses Shirley and Nancy Stone. The Stones are occupying the apartment in the John May house at 19 Grove street.

This And That
By E. S. P.

Youth: Do you think your Dad will object to my suit?
Girl: I don't see why he should, he wears one almost as bad as yours.

How much of real wisdom and help comes to us from the study of the Bible. Why is it we do not search the Scriptures more diligently? Understanding, it tells us, is a wellspring of new life unto him that needs it.

A 1,800,000 beet sugar factory is planned at Winthrop.

Tunnels aggregating 108 miles in length are part of the giant aqueduct which will bring the Colorado river water more freely to Los Angeles.

A State newspaper reminds us that "Owl's Head Lighthouse is on a point of land that was visited by Champlain in 1665 and named by him, 'Bedabedee,' meaning 'Cape of Waters.' It was inhabited by Indians, and was the scene of one bloody war. Frigates both English and American, roamed those waters in 1912 and during the Revolution. In the year before Maine became a State, this lighthouse was built and the name was changed to Owl's Head. The light can be seen 16 miles at sea, and all yachts are welcomed by three strokes of the bell, a courtesy started by one of the first keepers of the light."

The Rockland Garden Club is a progressive and most helpful club for those who love and cultivate both flowers and a garden for the healthful food we need.

Belfast has a Humane Society, which, at its annual meeting, reported taking care of six dogs and 14 cats, finding homes for some. Nine complaints about the care of animals were investigated. Good for Belfast! always alive to good work and helpfulness.

A rainbow trout was caught in a stream in Michigan and was tagged and let go. Sometime later it was caught the second time at Grand Haven, Michigan on the opposite shore of the lake this stream flowed into.

I should like to commend Gen. MacArthur's manner of commemorating the liberation of Manila. I refer to his general order requesting that divine services be held throughout his command, and his words, "For all this we have to thank God."

How often we stand and listen to the wind as it whistles through the trees! It always stirs the heart with thoughts of rustic melodies. And when a bird joins the mystic music in the air, one feels the rapture of sweet harmony everywhere.

A happy life consists in a mind which is free, upright and steadfast, beyond the influence of fear.

Bill: How did you make out with your victory garden last year?
Kitty: Well, I learned a lot of things that should help me get a crop this year thank you.

"My husband and I share equally the financial arrangements of the family."
"That's fine."
"Isn't it? I hand him the bills and he foots them!"

Books are our valuable and our invisible friends. Once we make acquaintance with a man's library, we can judge of his character and his way of life.

Jake: Why is sandy so down at the mouth?

Pat: Oh he bought a score card at the football game this afternoon and neither side scored.

If an article is worth space in this newspaper, it should be properly signed by the writer, especially when the article has criticism as its basis. There comes to my desk a letter of this nature, unsigned. We have a curfew rung every night at a convenient hour for the young people of our city to know when it is time to be home; we have a good-sized police force, whose duty it is to see that this law is respected. If our police force is not large enough or adequate for the city's needs, let's have more police!

Dr. Helen C. White, professor of English in the University of Wisconsin, has been reelected president of the American Association of University women.

Will Remember It

Miss Dorothy Sherman Returns From Startling Vacation In Halifax

Miss Dorothy M. Sherman has returned from Port Mouton, Nova Scotia, where she spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hockridge, former Rockland residents. Miss Sherman will remember this vacation for a long time, and for several good reasons.

When the Hockridges moved to Nova Scotia in September, 1944, they invited Miss Sherman to spend her 1945 vacation with them. Mrs. Hockridge had been assistant manager of the Sears Order Office several months, and Mr. Hockridge had been employed at the Camden shipyard.

First of the incidents, which will keep alive memories of the trip, was being unable to fly from Augusta to Halifax July 10 on account of bad weather conditions, and the second jolt came when Miss Sherman, scheduled to leave Augusta by plane the following day, lost out to an officer who showed up for passage to Moncton about five minutes before sailing time.

She came home from Augusta early that afternoon and, without unpacking her case, made plans to go by train, leaving here by bus at 6 o'clock that night for Portland and boarding the Halifax bound train at 11.55 p. m. She arrived in Port Mouton 38 hours later.

Coming up from Port Mouton to Halifax last Friday, one of the trucks of the railroad coach in which she was riding, jumped the rails and there was a delay of about half an hour. That night, while a guest at the Hotel Nova Scotian in Halifax, a knock came at her door, and she was warned that it would be a good idea to be dressed as an alert was expected and it might be necessary to evacuate the guests of the hotel. Rumbly sounds were heard all night Friday as relatively small explosions occurred at the Ammunition Depot in Dartmouth, across Bedford Basin from Halifax.

Riding out of Halifax Saturday morning, on the return trip, Miss Sherman had an opportunity to see some of the damage done by the explosions which started late the afternoon of Wednesday, July 18. A copy of The Halifax Herald of July 19, brought home by Miss Sherman, has proven interesting to the staff of The Courier-Gazette, for it contained a complete account of the disaster and carried excellent cuts of explosion scenes.

Happy indeed are her memories of the seven days spent with the Hockridges at Port Mouton, a beautiful shore village with its postoffice in a small general store, about like the office at Owl's Head. Swimming was enjoyed out from the white sands of the beach; there was plenty of beef, lobsters, clams and fresh vegetables, and an automobile ride, or two, although there were not many cars on the highway. At no time on the long ride was Miss Sherman inconvenienced because of crowded railways cars.

On the way east the train did not arrive in Halifax until 12.30 a. m., and as there were no rooms in the hotels, she found a bed in the Young Women's Christian Association. She lost some sleep there because of the loud snoring of other women in the room she occupied for a few hours.

Can you correctly pronounce gala, opponent, equitable, heinous, secretive, sacrifice, condolence, plenary, Arab, this list being that presented as critic's report by Mrs. Emma Bradstreet at Dr. Sisco's recent Educational Club meeting? What were the major mistakes made by ourselves in the U. S. following World War I which failed to prevent whose shoulders besides our own may be justly laid the blame? The present culprits who may permit Number Three are chiefly in which groups? Forums for 3 p. m. Thurs. Aug. 2, Mrs. Bradstreet, 67 Suffolk street, hostess. Be ready with your brief memorized gem, prose or poetry.

Alfred L. Greenlaw of Baltimore is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Greenlaw.

Begins Next Week

Priscilla Moore of Bangor To Be Home Demonstration Agent For Farm Bureau

Priscilla M. Moore of 23 West street, Bangor, has been appointed home demonstration agent in Knox and Lincoln counties and will begin work Aug. 1. Arthur L. Deering, director, Agricultural Extension Service, University of Maine, has announced.

Miss Moore was born in Dover-Foxcroft and educated in the Dover-Foxcroft schools and at the University of Maine. At the University she majored in home economics and graduated this Spring with the B. S. degree. She acted as special food preservation assistant in Penobscot County last year, and is familiar with extension work.

Her duties as home demonstration agent in Knox and Lincoln counties will be to work with local groups of women in forwarding the extension adult education in home management, clothing, and foods nutrition.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen L. Dow of South Portland were in the city Sunday. They were accompanied by Rockland by Mrs. Dow's niece, Miss Dorothy Brown, who had been their guest for a few days.

Mrs. C. P. Dow, Mrs. George Pierce and son, Ely, and daughter Debby, and Miss Eleanor Dow of Winchester, Mass., spent the weekend with Mrs. Frank C. Howe, North Main street.

The hours for the Women's Educational Club picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. Jesse E. Bradstreet, Suffolk street, Rockland, Thursday, Aug. 2, will be 3 to 8.30 p. m.

Mrs. Warner Lord of Philadelphia is spending ten days with her sister, Florence Dyer of Owl's Head, and Mrs. Charles Luce of Belfast.

Cynthia Ruth Tibbetts, who has been assisting Rev. Clayton Richards teaching Bible School in Bremen, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin H. Tibbetts, Cedar street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Buckley of Gardiner have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katherine M. Buckley, to Sgt. Merrill A. Cousens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cousens, also of Gardiner. Miss Buckley graduated from Gardiner High School in 1939 and from the Kennebec School of Commerce, Gardiner, in 1941. She is employed at the Internal Revenue Office in Augusta and was formerly employed at the Naval Air Station in Rockland. Sgt. Cousens graduated from Gardiner High School, 1936, and attended the Kennebec School of Commerce. He was employed by the Central Maine Power Company when he entered the service in March, 1942. He went overseas in September, 1943, seeing service in Scotland; landing in France on D-Day; and further service in England, Belgium and Germany. He has five battle stars. He is now stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. Miss Buckley, while employed in Rockland, made her home with Mrs. Basil H. Stinson.

1901 - LAKEWOOD - 1945
Every Evening This Week at 8
Mat. Saturday, 2.30
The Hilarious Laugh Hit!
"OVER TWENTY-ONE"
Week Beginning Mon., July 30
Matinee Saturday, Aug. 4
Lakewood Players Present
George Abbott's Greatest Comedy
Success—2 years on Broadway.
"KISS AND TELL"
with
ROBERT LYNN
KATHERINE MESKILL
BILLIE LOU WATT
And a notable Broadway Cast
Phone Skowhegan 331 for Reservations
Evenings 7.5c, $1.00, $1.50
Mat. 7.5c, $1.00 (Plus Fed. Tax)
DANCES EVERY THURS. EVE.

PARK ROCKLAND
TUES., WED., THURS.
HI THERE! HAPPINESS FANS THIS IS IT!
RADIO'S FAVORITE LAUGH MAKER AL PEARCE
in Hitchhike to Happiness
starring DALE EVANS - Brad TAYLOR with FRANKLYN J. JARVIS - JERRY L. HARRIS
Wally TUCKER
2nd Big Hit
THEY FOUND THE ANSWER TO WAR-TIME MARRIAGE IN THE MIDDLE OF A KISS!
GOOGLE Oogle ooh, (meaning: you'll like my daddy and mommy as much as I do!)
Columbia Pictures
JEAN ARTHUR CHARLES BOWMAN COBURN
"Living Cummings"
The Impatient Years
with Edgar Buchanan - Charley Grapewin - Jean Harlow

Beautiful - Durable - Practical
Furs
ADVANCE FALL STYLES NOW IN OUR SHOW ROOM
The pick of next season's crop is here! Rich pelts, wonderful styles, amazing values. You'll like especially the new saddle shoulder and balloon sleeves, the deep luxurious cuffs, the casual tuxedo fronts. Fall furs are ready for you now.
We cordially invite you to inspect these fine furs.
LUCIEN K. GREEN & SON
FURRIERS
16 SCHOOL ST., ROCKLAND, ME.

It's Refreshing!
"SALADA"
ICED TEA

SELLING MY ANTIQUE GLASS
AT HOME
TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAYS
1.30 to 6 P. M.
Exquisite Gifts for Showers, Weddings, etc.
E. C. NEWMAN
48 MASONIC STREET
ROCKLAND
NO DEALERS
67-T-61

Recalls Other Days

When Folks Enjoyed Winter Sleighrides in the Mammoth and Favorite

(From The Courier-Gazette files of 1920)

An interesting fact which escaped newspaper mention at the time of the big fire, and the publication of which is sure to revive interesting memories, was the destruction of certain vehicles which had not only played a prominent part in the period for which they were built, but which have become familiar objects to the present generation.

Conspicuous among these were the barge sleighs "Mammoth" and "Favorite"—magic names which serve to link Rockland's past and present. The oldest inhabitants went in them in their first school sleighrides, and awoke merry echoes on frigid winter days as the barges drawn by six or eight horses, made their way to the point of destination. Generally it was Camden, but equidistant Warren was a rival in popular favor and the first demonstration of your oratorical ability may have been given in the heated school debate which unfailingly ensued when this matter was brought up.

The "Mammoth" and "Favorite" had made journeys to many other points—more distant point like Belfast and Augusta—and they had carried other than school parties. The Rockland citizen who had not participated in one or more of these trips is indeed an exception to the rule.

Maybe the thermometers registered far below zero, and folks on the sidewalk said you were "crazy" to go; maybe the roads were bare in some places and deep-drifted in others; maybe a storm came on and you stayed over-night—but all for all that you sang "Jingle Bells" and you enjoyed every minute of the ride, to say nothing of "Seeing Nellie Home."

There will be other sleighrides, over the old familiar roads and romance will thrive anew, but surely there can be no days to compare with those in which the "Mammoth" and "Favorite" flourished. Their bones are bleaching in the debris of Rockland's greatest conflagration, for both sleighs were in "Winter quarters at the stable of Berry Bros. Co., and to have rescued them from the avalanche of flame would have been a physical impossibility.

The "Mammoth" was built originally for the purpose of carrying soldiers from Bath to Augusta during the Civil War, and accommodated 40 passengers. When the war was over, and the warriors of the North had discarded their blue uniforms for the habiliments of peace, the "Mammoth" was brought from the State by Berry, Ricker, and White proprietors of the Rockland and Bath stage route. Among those who drove it were the late John T. Berry and the late William White, members of the firm; Daniel Brown, father of William G. Brown, of the present staff of Berry Bros. Co., and Hiram D. Mitchell, another veteran attache of the concern.

The "Favorite" had a carrying capacity of 30. School sleighrides were often too large to be accommodated by these barges, and smaller vehicles were provided by the livery stable, but the average boy and girl counted their day more complete if they were snuggled into one of these barges.

From a historical standpoint, at least the greatest loss sustained by Berry Bros. Co., in the conflagration was the 12-passenger Concord stage coach, which was built for Berry Bros. by the late Franklin L. Cummings and used for a great many years on the Rockland and Bath stage route. When the Knox and Lincoln Railroad was completed and the swan song of the stage coach had been sung, this vehicle was stored away in the carriage house of Berry Bros' stable to be resurrected now and then for parade purposes. Its occupants on such occasions being generally, the aged veterans of the Civil War.

Stage coaches of that type had become such a rarity that the Concord people recently advertised for one to be used in a parade in London. John F. Sullivan manager of Berry Bros. Co., was about to answer this advertisement, volunteering the

To Assist Veterans

Object of Wednesday Night's Meeting of Chamber of Commerce Committee

Sgt. John E. Carleton, administrative officer of the United States Employment Service office, Augusta, was speaker at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Veterans committee, of which Lucius E. Jones is chairman Wednesday night. Everett W. Humphrey, manager of the local office presided. Sgt. Carter's talk was concerning the assistance to be given returning veterans in securing positions and in offering aid in connection with financial affairs. An open forum was held following his address. George B. Wood was appointed chairman of a committee of counselors to be formed shortly.

Those present included Mrs. Elizabeth Foxwell, David Connelly and Avery Matheson of Camden; Edwin P. Lynch and William Levan of Thomaston; Everett W. Humphrey of Rockport; Mayor Edward R. Veazie, Carl O. Nelson, veterans' service officer, Gerald U. Margeson, chief clerk of the selective service system office, Horatio C. Cowan, Sr., Herbert R. Mullen, George B. Wood, Edgar L. Newhall, Allan P. McAlary, Lenore B. Savage, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Errol W. Burns, Roland G. Ware, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Lucius E. Jones and Sgt. Carleton.

This was the second of a series of meetings to be held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce Post War Committee, working in conjunction with the State Committee on Economic Development, and is an organized effort to unify the groups endeavoring to work out an efficient post war plan.

famous Rockland coach, when the fire came.

Belfast had four of these coaches a number of years ago, relics of the stage routes which radiated from the Waldo county metropolises, but these, also, were lost in a big fire.

The Victoria in which William Jennings Bryan rode when he came to Rockland some years ago, and barouches which had borne many other dignitaries through the city's streets met the fate of the "Mammoth" and "Favorite" flourished. Their bones are bleaching in the debris of Rockland's greatest conflagration, for both sleighs were in "Winter quarters at the stable of Berry Bros. Co., and to have rescued them from the avalanche of flame would have been a physical impossibility.

There passed also the sleigh coaches which are said to have been an institution peculiar to Rockland. We have seen them year in and year out, bringing passengers from the wharves and railroad station to the local hotels, generally with "Tim" Sullivan standing in state on the baggage rest.

One of these sleigh coaches was 67 years old and also seen service on the Rockland-Bath stage route. Among those who have driven it are remembered three men who have long since gone to their rest—Martin Sweetland, Thomas Ingraham and Martin Webb.

R. Norman Marsh of Broad street, afterward railway mail clerk for a long period, was another who drove it, and whose interesting recollections of stage coach days were detailed in this paper some years ago. William G. Brown drove this coach 30 Winters, and when he stepped down from the box to become an assistant manager of the livery stable, the reins were turned over to Arthur L. Rokes, who has "commanded" the coach the past five years and made the last trip in the driver's seat.

"I don't know what we could have done without these stage coaches last Winter," said Manager Sullivan to The Courier-Gazette reporter. "You couldn't upset them. They never missed a trip all Winter, and not so much as a strap was broken." Manager Sullivan then called attention to the evolution which has taken place in the hacking business—first the stage coach, which was accepted method of traveling in the pre-railroad days; then the hack, which was looked up in the acme of luxury; and today the automobile, which makes the noblest horse look like a piker, when it comes to getting results. Some day the evolution may extend to airplanes, but Will Brown, Johnny Sullivan and Arthur Rokes won't do the driving.

One man who has witnessed all these changes, unmoved, is Alfred K. Crockett who has been with the Berry Bros' livery stable a half century plus two years. Will Brown certainly can be listed a veteran. Began driving when he was knee high to a grasshopper, and can look back upon 38 years' service. Hiram Mitchell is in the "40 class," to use a turf phrase. Good men, all.

HOPE

T/S Robert M. Hall, after 20 months' overseas service, spent 31 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton T. Hall, went Sunday to Fort Devens.

BANGOR FAIR FEATURES—WEEK OF AUGUST 5th.

Pictured above are a few of the many features to be presented at Bangor Fair. Top left is the grand opening attraction, the automobile thrill show, one of 12 thrilling death-defying acts to be presented one day only, Sunday afternoon and evening, Aug. 5th. Top right, section of Fish and Game exhibit, which will be 50 per cent larger than last year. A $2000 flower show and State Forestry display are other outstanding features. Center, top and bottom, Broadway revue and Reg Kehoe's Girl Marimba Band, two of 16 top acts which, with the largest display of fireworks to be seen in Maine this summer, make up the $15,000 night shows to be presented each evening, Monday through Saturday. Second row, left and right, views of the World of Mirth midway—the largest show on earth. Bottom, left and right, cattle and 4-H Club exhibits. The Exhibition Hall will be filled with fancy work and domestic arts displays. Officials A. R. & C. B. A. Rabbit show. Six days of racing, with the largest purses ever offered for a Bangor Fair program, starting Monday, Aug. 6th. It's one of Maine's big events in 1945.

Coming Back Soon

Sgt. Bernard Cohen Has Served 28 Months With Air Force Overseas

15th AAF IN Italy—M. Sgt. Bern-

STUDENT OF POETRY

A Boston Woman Who Expresses Her Thoughts in Charming Rhyme

Dolores Cairns of Boston has an exceedingly interesting poem in the Christian Science Monitor of recent date. With this poem comes deep thought and study of American Indians in prose.

A study of the horse and its introduction by the Spaniards to our land; Indians soon became excellent horsemen which changed their slow nomadic movements into swift travel for the hunt, and a new life experience. To quote a paragraph:

"Comparable workmanship is recorded in the arts of lands and epochs unknown to our American Indians. Similar displays of prowess have been carved upon the walls of many ancient Assyrian palaces to record the exploits of Assur-nasir-pal in the lion hunt; and too, they have been deftly embroidered on linen in the triumphal conquest of William the Norman in the Bayeux Tapestry."

ONE CHAPTER OF AMERICA

I saw Indians dancing—The thunder of giant waterfalls was in their dance.

And the leaping of eager fish in the surging rivers of Spring; Footsteps of rain hurrying on the hills.

And the sound of running deer, They sang.

And Autumn winds wailed softly through their singing.

And the voices of boundless forests were in it.

And the shrieking whistle of Winter winds,

And a hawk's harsh cry.

I thought: They make a part of our story—These pages pungent with wood-smoke, and vibrant with wild birds' wings;

And the chapter is not yet finished. For look where the sunset gleams unfading

At the edge of our sky! —Dolores Cairns.

A charming writer.

K. S. F.

GLEN COVE

Mrs. Lottie Tierney, Mrs. Frederick R. Houghton and Frank Page of Wellesley, Mass., were guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hall. A delightful picnic of the Farm Bureau and guests was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Andrews.

Mrs. C. E. Gregory was recent dinner guest of Anna Brazier. Leonard Warren has returned to Whitinsville, Mass., after three weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cousins.

Pfc. William A. Wood, who has just returned from Germany, and Mrs. Marjorie H. Wood, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Donald Wood.

BUY U.S. WAR BONDS

Speaking Of Petrol

Here Are Some Amazing Facts Concerning Its Use In Present War

Here are some interesting facts from—Petroleum Administration for War:

The fighting forces of the United Nations have been furnished, from Pearl Harbor to date, 63 billion gallons of petroleum products from the 385 refineries of the United States alone. The Petroleum Administration for War supervises the production of this petroleum from its source at the oil wells until it is delivered as products to the military.

The 63 billions gallons includes more than 500 different petroleum products used in every type of military operation, from flying B-29 super-fortresses to operating the refrigeration units used in preserving food in the depths of Pacific jungles.

If the 63 billion gallons were all fuel oil, it would supply every American home heated in that way during 1944, for more than ten years! Or, if the 63 billion gallons were motor gasoline, it would power all the nation's passenger cars for 6 years.

An average freighter carrying men and material to a Pacific war zone uses as much as 10,000 gallons of fuel oil a day—and that would heat the average American home for six years.

To lay down 100,000 barrels of fuel oil from Houston, Texas, to the Philippines requires 100 big tankers. To make this delivery and return to their home ports, the 100 tankers use on equivalent of 16 tanker-loads of fuel.

The public has the impression that the shipping of petroleum products from the United States to the Philippines is merely picking it up at San Francisco and leaving it at Manila. However, cargo must be collected from many ports along the western coasts of South and North America, the Caribbean seaports area, the Persian Gulf area and the Gulf Coast of the United States. From Houston, Texas, to Manila is 11,000 miles so that a round trip is almost equivalent to a tanker traveling around the world.

Probate Court News

This Is Not a Legal Notice

Wills Allowed—Frank B. Gregory, late of Rockland, deceased, Kittie O. Gregory of Rockland appointed executrix; George W. Tinney, late of Rockland, deceased, Ida L. Rogers of Rockland appointed executrix; Linwood E. Dyer, late of Owl's Head, deceased, Ellena Estelle Dyer, Fredette of Owl's Head appointed executrix; Clark W. Holmes, late of Rockport, deceased, Frank S. Johnson of Rockport appointed executrix.

Petitions For Administration Granted: Estate, Alex Wallenius, late of Union, deceased, Senja M. Leach of Middletown, Conn., appointed administratrix, Ensign Otis of Rockland appointed Agent in Maine; Leroy J. Benner, late of Friendship, deceased, Hazel M. Benner of Friendship appointed administratrix; Almond L. Callahan, late of South Thomaston, deceased, Gilford B. Butler of South Thomaston appointed administrator.

Petition For Administration d.b.n. Granted: Estate, Lewis R. A. Whitehouse, late of St. George, deceased, Mildred Pierson of St. George appointed administratrix d.b.n.

Petition By Public Administration Granted: Estate, Benjamin Payson, late of Rockland, deceased, Frank H. Ingraham of Rockland, public administrator.

Petition For License To Convey Real Estate and Distribute Among Heirs Living in Different States Granted: Estate, Sarah M. Butler, late of Rockland, deceased, presented by Edith F. Hopkins of Augusta, heir.

Petitions For License To Sell Real Estate Granted: Estates, Chaney K. Snowdeal, late of Owl's

Head, deceased, filed by Ruth E. Snowdeal, of Owl's Head, Administratrix; James B. Westcott and Richard Westcott, both of New York, N. Y., filed by Henrietta Willson Westcott, Guardian.

Accounts Allowed: Estates, Susie T. Snow, late of Rockland, deceased, First and final account filed by Charles A. Tolman, Administrator; Horatio W. Stevens, late of Camden, deceased, first and final account filed by Z. M. Dwinall, Executor; Angie M. Hart, late of Rockland, deceased, first and final account filed by Grace L. Jameson, Administratrix; Emerson O. Perkins, late of Warren, deceased, first and final account filed by Emerson W. Perkins, Executor; Rose L. Prescott, late of Rockland, deceased final account filed by Bernice Tibbetts, administratrix; Nettie E. Young, late of Matineus, deceased, first and final account filed by Pearl E. Borgerson, Administratrix; Margaret M. Starrett of Union, third and final account filed by Charlotte F. Hawes, Guardian; Annie F. Frye, late of Rockland, deceased, fifth account filed by Alan L. Bird, Trustee; Alice G. Marsh, late of Rockland, deceased, first and final account filed by Albert R. Marsh, executor; Theodore L. Draper of Chelmsford, Mass., first and final account filed by Francis C. Zacharier, Guardian; Adella N. Townsend, late of Thomaston, deceased, distribution accounts filed by Adella T. Kirkpatrick, administratrix, c.t.a.

Petition For Probate of Will Presented For Notice: Mabel J. Mills, late of Warren, deceased, Jesse A. Mills, late of Warren named executor.

Petitions For Administration Presented For Notice: Estates, Anne F. Snow, late of Rockland, deceased, Harold S. Leach of Rockland named administrator; Francis E. Harrington, late of Essex, Connecticut, deceased, Alan L. Bird of Rockland, named administrator.

Accounts Presented For Notice: Estates, Burnett Payson, late of Camden, deceased, first and final account filed by Maurice E. Payson, administrator; John E. Braggs, late of Rockland, deceased, first and final account filed by Jerome C. Burrows, administrator; Rose Davis Harrington, of Rockland, fourth account filed by Alan L. Bird, guardian.

The Can You Save

Can Save a LIFE

Remove labels, wash and flatten used cans. Put in separate container next to your trash can. Save for local pickup.

2 DAYS ONLY! THURSDAY & FRIDAY
JULY 26 JULY 27

The style of your choice custom made to your individual measurements at no additional charge.

SAVITT'S, Inc. PRESENT SCOTT FURRIERS' "CHOICE OF THE HOUSE"

BUY NOW
At Tempting Savings
$5

will hold any coat 12 months to pay after delivery in the Fall. Payments arranged to suit your convenience.

Extra liberal trade-in allowance on your old fur coat as first payment.

PRE-SEASON
FUR SALE
1945-1946 SCOTT
SUPER-BILT FUR COATS
(Registered)

$119 up to $499

A MATCHING
OR CONTRASTING
FUR MUFF
AS A GIFT WITH EACH FUR COAT

SAVITT'S, INC.

EXCLUSIVE AGENTS FOR SCOTT SUPER-BILT FUR COATS
NEW ENGLAND'S LARGEST FURRIERS

